

U. N. Censure May Bring Withdrawal Of South Africans

Foreign Minister Awaiting Word From His Government

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Liberia labeled Louw's address "offensive, fictitious and erroneous." South Africa cast the sole negative vote but 20 nations abstained. The United States, Britain, France and six other countries did not participate in the ballot, and three other nations were absent.

Louw angrily charged that the censure of his policy speech by an overwhelming vote of 67-1 was part of a prearranged campaign by African nations to smear his government.

"We had been forewarned this would happen," Louw declared after a parade of African delegates denounced his speech as insulting to their governments and the African people.

African delegates were infuriated by Louw's charge that many of the African governments were attacking his government to divert attention from appalling economic conditions and illiteracy in their own countries. The Africans also resented his announcement that South Africa would continue its policy of apartheid—strict race segregation—despite the U.N.'s disapproval.

South Africa walked out of the General Assembly six years ago when its white supremacist policies were censured. It has threatened to pull out of the U.N. altogether if pushed too far.

Recalling the warning, delegates noted that this was the first time any U.N. representative had ever been censured for a speech. The censure motion put in by

Rayburn Shows Improvement in Fighting Cancer

DALLAS (AP) — Speaker Sam Rayburn, ill with incurable cancer and suffering from pneumonia, appeared improved today after being unconscious much of Wednesday.

The condition of the 69-year-old political leader and lawmaker worsened Wednesday after he contracted pneumonia. He regained consciousness during the afternoon.

A mid-morning bulletin on Rayburn issued today by Dr. Robert F. Short Jr., his attending physician, said:

"Mr. Rayburn is out of coma. He is definitely improved and the major change occurred this morning. He looks and appears stronger this morning and recognizes family and associates. His temperature is normal. Pulse, blood pressure and respiration have remained unchanged since the change for the better."

Rayburn's temperature rose to 103 degrees Wednesday.

At that time, Dr. Short said the pneumonia was not caused by use of an anticancer drug, which may prolong his life but effect no cure.

The anticancer treatment was suspended because of the pneumonia.

No Early End to East-West Collisions, Kennedy States

Taylor's Trip Hints at U.S. Intervention

Communist Threat Reported Growing In South Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The possibility of direct U.S. military intervention in South Viet Nam appeared to be sharpened today by President Kennedy's decision to send Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor on an urgent mission to assess the growing Communist threat to the Southeast Asian country.

Taylor, a top Kennedy military adviser, is scheduled to leave Sunday, make a fast survey of the increasingly dangerous situation, then give Kennedy an "educated military guess" on the size of the Communist menace and steps that could be taken to meet it. Officials said the U.S.-supported government of President Ngo Dinh Diem is coming under very heavy Red pressure.

New Warning Indicated

The President announced the Taylor mission at a news conference Wednesday at which he also made clear that he will send Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson back to Moscow shortly to resume exploratory talks with Soviet leaders on possible settlement of the Berlin crisis.

Thompson, in addition, is expected to visit Laos and Cambodia.

A crowd of 396 newsmen and visitors attended the news conference, which also could be seen across the country via live television. It was the chief executive's 16th news conference in

Mankind at Still Gravest Danger Point in History, President Tells Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy sees no easy or early halt to East-West collisions which have pushed mankind to, as he views it, the gravest danger point in all history.

"There still are very major differences," he says, between the western powers and the Soviet Union.

The talks he and Secretary of State Dean Rusk have had with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in the last few weeks have failed to produce immediate hope of achieving agreement on Berlin, Kennedy told his news conference Wednesday.

"Our ambition is to protect our vital interests without a war which destroys and doesn't really represent a victory for policy," Kennedy said. He added that Americans are rightfully concerned in this age of annihilating weapons because: "We happen to live in the most dangerous time in the history of the human race."

Local Asked To Vote Again

UAW Board Hopes AMC Contract Will Be Ratified

DETROIT (AP) — The international executive board of the United Auto Workers Union has told Local 72 at Kenosha, Wis., to try again to ratify the profit-sharing contract with American Motors Corp.

The 12,000 member Kenosha local in the lone Rambler assembly plant is the largest in AMC. Last Sunday, by a slim vote of 1,507 to 1,444, it rejected the agreement.

The executive board, in a special session Wednesday night, asked for the new vote at a future, unspecified date. It noted it could have declared the master contract approved since a majority of all AMC employees voting had accepted it, 4,060 to 2,904.

New Ballot Asked

But the board said that "in keeping with the democratic tradition of the UAW" it was asking for another ballot. A union spokesman said it was not unique for a local to reject a national contract on its first ballot.

Both the company and the international union had blamed Sunday's rejection on the light vote which they suggested was brought on by line weather, the World Series and pro football.

Both UAW President Walter P. Reuther and Edward Cushman, AMC vice president, said they believed considerable misunderstanding and a general lack of understanding prevailed among the local's members over terms of the contract.

Shipping Strike Ended in West

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A two-week deck officers strike that idled 44 ships along the West Coast has ended.

Spokesmen for the Masters, Mates and Pilots Union and for the shipowners, represented by the Pacific Maritime Association, credited U.S. Undersecretary of Labor Willard Wirtz with bringing the two sides together.

Wirtz called it a compromise. Neither side seemed very happy with the settlement.

The union voted 335-252 to return to work today. The three-year contract still is subject to a referendum of the union membership.

Tories Favor Entry Into Common Market

BRIGHTON, England (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's Conservative party today approved his government's move to seek membership for Britain in the six-nation European Common Market.

Basic terms of the agreement provide that workers begin to share in profits after 10 per cent of the firm's net worth, before taxes, has been set aside for the stockholders. The next 10 per cent goes to the workers, mainly in the form of fringe benefits. A further 5 per cent is paid the individual workers in AMC stock.

The contract, much like those of General Motors and Ford, provides an annual improvement factor increase of six cents hourly or 2 1/2 per cent for each year of the three-year agreement; a continuation of the cost of living allowance and improvements in jobless benefits, insurance and pensions, plus pay for short work weeks.

Air Force Maj. Bob White climbs from the cockpit of the X15 Wednesday after rocketing 40 miles into space near Edwards Air Force Base in California. It was a new altitude record for winged flight — by about eight miles. Only American and Russian astronauts have gone higher. A test maneuver as he came down caused the plane's windshield to crack.

Space Flier Can Land in Winged Craft

Altitude Record Set to Prove Point In Coming Down

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — In the most dangerous X15 flight yet, a pilot set a world's record for going up—to prove this important point about coming down:

That an astronaut doesn't have to ride back to earth as a prisoner in a falling capsule—but can fly safely through the earth's atmosphere in a winged craft and land where he wishes.

Air Force Maj. Bob White Wednesday set a new world's altitude record for winged flight, 40 miles, and then made a belly-flopping reentry into the atmosphere which cracked the windshield of the rocket plane.

The plane dropped spread-eagle into the atmosphere the way a diver belly-flops into a swimming pool. The stress and friction heat would have torn a conventional plane apart.

The method spreads the heat of re-entry over a large area of the plane. Wednesday's successful flight proved techniques which may be used in re-entries on future Dyna-Soar and Apollo manned orbital flights in winged rocket craft, scientists said.

White said the windshield broke but they appeared agreeable.

Nelson, GOP Reach Main Agreement

Both Sides Say Personal Property Tax Should Be Cut 50 Per Cent

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

(Related story on Page B7)

MADISON — Gov. Nelson and Republican legislative leaders Wednesday reached the first tentative agreement on tax revision policy when they concluded that the principal personal property taxpayers of the state should have their levies cut "at least" 50 per cent.

Gov. Nelson used the word "tentative" in describing the understanding. The ultimate relief recommended may be more, depending upon the later agreement of the Democratic executive and also Republican legislators on the kind of new revenue program that can be devised — a delicate topic that the consulting politicians have not yet taken up.

Republicans when they passed their sales tax method of tax revision earlier in the year included a 100 per cent abolition of the personal property tax liability of farm livestock and merchants and manufacturers' stocks. That would have required a local revenue replacement of about $60 million a year.

Republican spokesmen on the conference committee grumbled mildly when Nelson proposed the more cautious one-half cut back, but they appeared agreeable.

Colombia Under State of Siege

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — President Alberto Lleras Camargo declared Wednesday night that the government was under attack from "extremist forces" and proclaimed a state of siege throughout the nation.

Lleras broadcast the proclamation after the army announced the recapture of 130 army rebels who escaped from detention here Wednesday.

Chico, Oldest Marx Brother, Dies In Hollywood of Heart Ailment

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Leonard Marx, a tailor's son who wanted to be a businessman but instead became Chico of the Marx brothers' comedy team, is dead at 70.

Chico, oldest member of the immensely successful brothers whose vaudeville and movie fans included low brow and intellectuals alike, died of a heart ailment Wednesday. He had been ill for several months.

Chico and brothers Groucho (Julius), Harpo (Arthur), Zeppo (Herbert) and Gummo (Milton) transformed low comedy into high art for three decades—with their special brand of wisks, whistles and wisecracks.

Their last movie was in 1960, entitled "Love Happy," and the cast included an obscure blonde actress, Marilyn Monroe, in her first film.

Their fans included the late Irish playwright George Bernard Shaw, who said they were "the world's greatest actors."

Others ranked them with masters of comedy—Chaplin, Laurel and Hardy, W. C. Fields and Will Rogers.

Gummo and Zeppo entered private business years ago. Chico, who loved gambling, cards and golf, lived quietly in recent years.

Action Started by AFL-CIO on Hoffa

AFL-CIO President Gets Council to Approve Plan of Action Against Teamsters

BY EDWIN A. LAHEY
Chicago Daily News Service

WASHINGTON — It's Jimmy Hoffa versus the world again. And it's hard to get even money on the world.

Both Bobby Kennedy and George Meany reopened their of fence against the little man, Bobby representing the United States as its Attorney General, and Meany representing antiseptic trade unionism, as president of the AFL-CIO.

Both representatives of law and decency, Kennedy and Meany have been obsessed for several years now with the passion to destroy Hoffa, the president of the Teamsters' Union, who would like to see Hoffa grand jury in Orlando, Fla., indicted Jimmy for use of the mails to defraud prospective buyers in some "Sunken Heights" real estate development. A previous indictment, as defective as the lots, had been dismissed.

Hoffa Vulnerable

Meany, presiding at the fall fair meeting of the executive council of the AFL-CIO in New York, apparently persuaded his fellow 800 members of Local 98 who state men in labor that Hoffa was vulnerable to attack.

The council thereupon invited dis sident locals of the Teamsters' Union to apply directly for affiliation with the AFL-CIO, or as soon as possible after any rebels leave the emergency ward.

The action of the AFL-CIO Executive Council was by far the most important, in terms of public tranquility.

Hoffa's lawyers, whom he hires in wholesale lots like section to hands, have never been much afraid of the mail fraud indictment, even if it had been properly drawn in the first place. A De troit banker, Robert E. McCarthy Jr. is a codefendant with Hoffa in the Orlando proceeding.

Could Be War

But the decision of the AFL-CIO to invite rebellion of the rank and file of the Teamsters' Union could mean some rugged warfare among the labor skates.

Meany, under whose leadership the Teamsters were thrown out of the AFL-CIO four years ago, he no acceptance of the Meany in as irredeemably corrupt has al vitation for members of Hoffa's ways maintained that everybody union to rebel against him overestimated Jimmy Hoffa's power

Sec of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, who was counsel for the AFL-CIO committee that drew up the corruption charges against Hoffa's leadership, has publicly shared this view. It is Goldberg's belief that the union member ship would eventually destroy Hoffa. That theory remains to be test ed. Since the July convention of the Teamsters, where delegates voted greater powers to Hoffa and all inclusive jurisdiction to their union, there have been rumblings of revolt in Cincinnati, Chicago, Newark, N. J., and Oakland, Calif., who would like to see Hoffa take a tumble.

The first public test of the rank mails to defraud prospective buyers in some "Sunken Heights" real estate development. A previous indictment, as defective as the lots, had been dismissed.

Officials under Hoffa say privately that they expect to lose this test, and that it will not be a fair measure of rank and file sentiment.

The Cincinnati case involves 3,800 members of Local 98 who state men in labor that Hoffa was vulnerable to attack.

Members of the local, who are milk drivers and dairy workers will vote in an NLRB election at the end of the month to decertify the Teamsters as their bargaining agent.

International officials said that there are enough "loyal" mem bers of Local 98 to assure legal custody of the charter. The Luk-Michael Corabi, 42, who said he once helped her count nearly $30,000 in cash in September 1958.

Corabi's testimony was aimed at discounting the prosecution's contention that Miss Reis hired three men to crack the safe of John B. Rich, a wealthy Pottsville coal operator, on Aug. 7, 1959, then used part of the money to purchase a night club where she once danced.

Two of the three men allegedly hired to crack the safe, Robert Poulson 26 and John Berkery, 30, were convicted in the case last spring as was Ralph Staino Jr., 28, manager of Miss Reis' club.

Found Dead

A third alleged safecracker, Vincent Blanev, 26, was found shot to death in August 1960 in what police said was a gangland killing to keep him from turning state's evidence.

Blanev's brother, Richard, 27, who was the prosecution's star witness at the trials of the three who were convicted, was killed by a bomb planted in his car. He was to have testified at the Reis trial.

In efforts to break down another prosecution contention that the burglars met at Miss Reis' Philadelphia home on Aug. 6, 1959 the defense called Irene Baldino, 24, a former dancer at the club.

Chorus Girl Case Goes to Jury Monday

Lillian Reis Charged With Planning Safe Theft to Buy Club

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — A jury next Monday will begin deliberating the fate of Lillian Reis, 32, a one-time chorus girl accused of masterminding a burglary which police claim netted $500,000 and led to the gangland slayings of two brothers.

The stormy 16-day trial produced unusual testimony and led the prosecution to plead surprise on testimony of its own witnesses.

Judge Charles W. Staudenheimer said he plans to charge the jury Monday.

Case to Jury

After the judge's charge, the panel of five women and seven men will deliberate the shapely brunette's fate.

The trial is in recess because of Columbus Day, a court holiday. It will resume Friday, during which time the prosecution and defense will deliver their summations, then recess Judge Charles W. Staudenheimer decided not to charge the jury until Monday because summations may cover an extended period.

The defense rested Wednesday.

Helped Count

The final defense witness was Miss Reis' estranged husband, Michael Corabi, 42, who said he once helped her count nearly $30,000 in cash in September 1958.

Corabi's testimony was aimed at discounting the prosecution's contention that Miss Reis hired three men to crack the safe of John B. Rich, a wealthy Pottsville coal operator, on Aug. 7, 1959, then used part of the money to purchase a night club where she once danced.

10,000 More Men Ordered To Europe

Air, Ground Troops Included in Move to Bolster U.S. Forces

WASHINGTON (AP)—An additional 10,000 air and ground troops have been ordered to Europe to bolster the Allied garrison manning the line between West Germany and the Communist East.

They are in addition to the 40,000 Army troops beginning to deploy abroad in the first phase of a program to increase conventional war capability against possible Red aggression. By year's end U.S. forces in Europe will total about 300,000.

About half the 10,000 are Army men, the other half Air National Guardsmen.

Men Sent

The Pentagon said Wednesday that the 3rd Armored Cavalry Regiment, with a strength of about 3,000 men, would go overseas at an early date. Another 2,000 soldiers also will be sent to handle and guard weapons and equipment being stored against the possibility that full-sized Army divisions might go later.

Eleven fighter squadrons of federalized Air National Guard units, with a total manpower of about 5,000 pilots and support personnel, will start heading overseas about Nov. 1.

Added to Army

The ground and air units will be added to five Army divisions, elements equaling another division, and 17 tactical air squadrons now in West Germany and France.

Both the ground and air units in this new augmentation are health service said, the highest equipped and trained for conventional warfare.

Fresh Food in U. S. Has Radioactive Iodine in It

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fallout clear testing Sept. 1. Since then, from Soviet nuclear tests has in-according to President Kennedy's disclosed radioactive iodine 131 disclosure Wednesday at a news into fresh food supplies in many conference, the Soviet Union has fired more than 20 nuclear explosions into the atmosphere.

Iodine is a source of potential concern because physicians say extensive overdoses might result in cancer or other injury to the thyroid.

Three weeks ago, the top-level Federal Radiation Council cut sharply its recommended maximum safe limit on the intake of radioactive iodine 131. The cut was recommended particularly for the protection of children.

Under the old standard, a daily intake of up to approximately 1,300 micro-microcuries was considered acceptable. A micro-microcurie is a measure of radioactivity.

Under the council's new recommendations, a range beginning as low as 100 micro-microcuries a day for a year is indicated as a possible danger point that would require the most stringent kinds of control. The council stressed the hazard to small children of concentrations of iodine 131 in their diets, particularly in milk.

In the period Sept. 20-29, the health service said, the highest iodine measurements for each of the six cities were

Peace Corps Members Arrive in Philippines To Start Teaching

First Contingent to Reach Asia Welcomed by Island Officials

Chicago Daily News Foreign Service

MANILA— More than 100 idealistic but serious-minded young Americans landed at an airport here this morning after a trans-Pacific flight to embark on their adventure as the first Peace Corps contingent to reach the Far East.

After only a brief pause for a friendly welcome by Filipino educators, students and U. S. officials, they piled aboard wooden-seated local buses for a 40-mile trip southeast to the College of Agriculture at Los Banos on the jungled slopes of the extinct Makiling volcano.

For the next seven weeks these 127 young men and women will study Filipino dialects, history and social institutions—they already have been given an equal period of training at the University of Pennsylvania where they also were screened. Then they will move to the provinces, living in teams of four and work as teachers' aides to improve English, science and mathematics instruction.

While teaching in the Barrios (villages) of the Philippine Islands promises to challenge the best in these Peace Corps pioneers, it's also a test of this generation of Americans. Can they take it and adapt constructively to life on the frontiers of emerging nations in Asia and Africa?

High Hopes

Filipino expectations for the Peace Corps are high. Inevitably young men and women arriving now are compared to their predecessors, nearly 1,000 American teachers known as "Thomasites" for their army transport the USS Thomas, who landed here 60 years ago. They started the public school system which became the foundation of Philippine progress and democracy.

In the simple welcoming ceremony, Philippine Peace Corps Director Lawrence Fuchs, former faculty dean at Brandeis University, told Education Sec. Jose Tuazon, "these people will be your employees."

The cabinet minister responded, "I would like to thank President Kennedy for sending you here."

He went on to recall that the Thomasites at the start of the century had given the Filipinos the basis for their republic.

U. S. Ambassador John Hickerson told the new arrivals "I hope some of you after this will take foreign service examinations. I can think of no finer training for graduated with a teaching certificate from the University of Michigan last year, she explained, "I joined because I feel international relations are the most important thing in our government. This way we can show we are interested in being friends and sharing with them and build mutual understanding."

Filipinos whom she met at University of Pennsylvania had already impressed her with their extreme politeness and concern for their country.

Volcano Forces Islanders to Enter Into Twentieth Century

CAPE TOWN South Africa party is flying here (AP)—The entire population of volcano-stricken Tristan da Cunha sailed sadly toward the 20th century today.

The Dutch liner Tiscandane Wednesday night rescued the 260 men, women and children who had fled the island for refuge on nearby Nightingale Island, an uninhabited rock, after Tristan was shaken by earthquakes and volcanic eruptions.

The liner is expected at Cape Town Tuesday.

The Tristanians wept on bidding farewell to their primitive homeland in the South Atlantic where they have lived an 18th century existence virtually cut off from the rest of the world.

Regional Conference
On Domestic Affairs
To be on Nov. 13

MADISON (AP)—Gov. Gaylord Nelson said that he had received confirmation from President Kennedy that a White House regional conference on domestic programs and needs will be held Nov. 13 in Madison. The governor had requested the meeting. The President said he appreciated Nelson's interest and added that the governor's sponsorship of the conference "will do much to insure its success." Officials Attend Kennedy's confirming telegram said top federal officials, including a cabinet officer, will attend the conference. Invited participants will include state and local officials, representatives of special civic groups and interested citizens. "Conferences will be held in major cities throughout the country at which experts in various fields of government activity will explain new developments, legislative changes and future plans," the president said. "The White House regional conference in Madison will be concerning primarily with agriculture," he added, "and a group of experts from the U. S. Department of Agriculture will attend to explain programs with special significance for Wisconsin farmers and those in nearby areas."

New Soviet Proposal

In the protracted U.S.-Soviet negotiations over an interim secretary-general to succeed the late Dag Hammarskjöld, the United States was studying a new Soviet compromise proposal.

The two big powers had agreed earlier that the secretary-general should have five principal advisers or deputies and that four should be named from the United States, the Soviet Union, Latin America and Asia or Africa. But the Soviet Union wanted the fifth post to go to an East European while the United States held out for a West European.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin proposed on Wednesday that six deputies be named instead of five, providing places for both a West European and East European. Stevenson said he would study the proposal.

This 41-foot model space laboratory, designed to carry a team of astro-scientists into orbit 350 miles above the earth went on public display today in New York's Museum of Natural History. The aluminum cylinder is as large as a four-room house. The life-size mannequins wear pressure suits and helmets. Another exhibit at right is a full-scale model of the Mercury capsule.

Crises on 2 Fronts

As the President discussed the Southeast Asian and Berlin situations in response to news conference questions, the impression grew among his hearers that he was grappling with the complex and interlocking problems of crises on two fronts.

Other administration officials and those of Secretary of State Dean Rusk to explore a settlement of the Berlin crisis with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko have not been productive so far.

Lawrence Says U.S. Bound To Hold Ground In Berlin, Asia

President's Words
Stop Rumors on Weakened Stand

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — If the men in Moscow have been under the illusion that the United States isn't determined to stand firm in the current crisis over Berlin, they must have been dismayed by President Kennedy's grim words at his Wednesday press conference. The President stopped rumors that the American position might be weakening.

Lawrence

Foreign Minister Gromyko, by his talks with Secretary Rusk, President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan, presumably has learned just what the western position is. But the world had no definite or authoritative information until the President spoke.

Mr. Kennedy was careful in the choice of words. He said that all the conversations with the Soviets thus far had merely been exploratory—an attempt to define precisely the position of each side—and that this should not be called "negotiations."

No Land In Sight

This, of course, is a technical use of the word "negotiations." The United States government doesn't want to be represented as having advanced any compromise suggestions.

What then did all the conversation of the last 10 days mean, and what is meant by the President's statement that the American ambassador to the Soviet Union, Llewellyn Thompson, is shortly to go from Washington to Moscow to resume talks? This is a device that is used to keep the door open when there's a dispute that shows no signs of being immediately resolved. Indeed, Mr. Kennedy said: "On the substance, we are not in sight of land."

It was important for President Kennedy to make it clear to the Kremlin that he hasn't retreated or receded and that he means to go ahead—even if it means war.

A Warning

For the Moscow government must make up its mind soon whether it will seek any further advances in the "cold war" and take risks on the American government's policies. Mr. Kennedy in a few words gave the Russians something to think about when he announced that he had ordered Gen. Maxwell Taylor of the White House staff to go to Vietnam and look things over. The President didn't say what kind of assistance America would give to its ally in southeast Asia, but left the inference that, when the general returns, a decision will be made whether to send American military forces into southeast Asia.

This is a significant way of advising Moscow that the United States isn't becoming preoccupied by the Berlin crisis and recognizes that there are things to be done in Laos and elsewhere to counter Communist aggression. It was a method of letting the Soviets know that the United States is not willing to give up in Laos either and stands ready there, as it does in West Berlin, to use force if necessary.

No light was shed by the President on any specific plan to settle by mutual agreement the disputed points in the Berlin controversy. This is not surprising. Mr. Kennedy purposely gives the impression that he is biding his time and will not take precipitate action of any kind. He speaks of further conferences by the ambassadors of the two sides and some further talks with the other western allies as to how the problems shall be handled.

Preserve Solidarity
It has been reported that President de Gaulle of France doesn't think there should be any negotiations until the Russians give up a sign of making concessions. He is said to have been displeased ed by the recent talks with Foreign Minister Gromyko here and as inclined to describe them as "negotiations." Mr. Kennedy's words were undoubtedly intended to reassure the French president that no attempt had been made to carry on "negotiations." Externally at least, this helps to preserve allied solidarity.

The country cannot tell from anything Mr. Kennedy said about whether or not there's going to be war. But neither can Nikita Khrushchev. One point needs to be stressed. The President of the United States cannot trifle with the security of this country, and the Soviet Premier ought to take a good look at Mr. Kennedy's exact words. He pointedly referred to America's military buildup in recent months. When a President says that the United States means to defend its rights by force if necessary, such a statement should not be discounted but should be taken seriously.

That's why Mr. Kennedy's comments at his press conference this week could play a vital part in shaping the future course of events in the world.

Life Insurance For Guardsmen Backed by VA

Premium Payments
Will be Guaranteed
While on Active Duty

Premium payments and interest on commercial life insurance policies of Reservists and National Guardsmen who are ordered to active duty may be guaranteed by the Veterans Administration under provisions of the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act, the Veterans Administration has announced.

Francis Heesakker, Outagamie County Service officer, says that policyholder is on active duty, and this protection covers the policy for two years after his discharge, and two years afterward. It applies only to life policies that do not impose special premium rates.

for military duties or clauses limiting benefits because of service. The total amount that VA can guarantee must not exceed $10,000 in each case.

Cullen reminded veterans, however, that the protection is in reality a loan against the policy and that the premiums and interest thus guaranteed must eventually be repaid by the veteran.

The policy also must have been in effect for at least 180 days before the owner entered active service and must be in force on a premium basis at the time of application for protection. U.S. Government and National Service life insurance policies are not eligible under the fact. VA said the policyholder must apply for protection on VA Form 9-380 to the insurance company and VA.

Once a policy is protected, it will not lapse or terminate for non-payment of premiums, indebtedness or interest while the policyholder is on active duty, and studies teacher at Roosevelt Junior High School, effective Jan. 5, 1962.

Royce E. Kurtz said that Gam-sky has been offered a position as an educational counsellor at the Diagnostic Center in Madison, Wis., and that he will also be able to continue work toward his Ph.D. at the University of Wisconsin.

Kurtz told the board that to his knowledge the Appleton public schools would not lose any teachers due to the calling of the Wisconsin 32nd Division, although a number of schools in the area had. He said there was a possibility that Appleton could still lose some teachers if more reserve units were called up.

Board Approves Resignation of School Teacher

The Appleton Board of Education Tuesday approved the resignation of Neal Gamsky, a guidance counsellor and social studies teacher at Roosevelt Junior High School, effective Jan. 5, 1962.

There is a new and attractive sophistication to these harvest pies. They are flavored imaginatively... the top two are naturals for "flaming" at the table as a dramatic dinner finale. Pears and raisins combine with spicy ginger in the Pear Pie, top; apples, cranberries and walnut chunks highlight the center pie. The Autumn Harvest pie, filled with a variety of dried fruits, is served with a Hard Sauce.

Harvest Pies in This Collection Chosen for Their 'Glamor' Appeal

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

'Tis said that pies are America's favorite dessert. Whether exactly true or stretched a bit, the claim has a point. We can be sure they're extremely popular in the brisk, crisp days of autumn.

They go hand in hand with the seasons, really... from June strawberry time right through the fall harvest and on into winter when stored, canned, frozen, fresh or dried fruits are available for a variety of delicious pie fillings.

A bang-up recipe collection is good to have at any time of year... but when October rolls around with its swing of fall entertaining, then Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays looming ahead... that's when a fine batch of recipes becomes worth its weight in gold.

Most of these pies today reflect a holiday or special occasion use... they were all chosen for their glamor... their ability to set off a meal with a touch of culinary drama. Two of the pies... the Pear and Cranberry-Apple... are designed for flaming... to be brought to the table flambeed with bourbon or brandy. Another, rich with various dried fruits, should be served with a creamy hard sauce. Then there are two old favorites in new dress... a Pumpkin Chiffon in a graham cracker crust and a Cranberry Pie in a pastry crust that takes but a stir and a roll to make.

Now's the time to test and taste. If they pass inspection, clip the recipe and tuck it into a file marked "special occasion desserts... holiday or otherwise."

Pear Pie

Pastry for 9-inch pie shell
6 ripe Bartlett pears
1 cup raisins
1 tablespoon cut-up candied ginger
1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons butter
1/4 cup bourbon, warmed
Roll out pastry, fit into pie tin and chill. Peel five of the pears, slice thinly and mix with raisins, ginger, 1/2 cup sugar and cornstarch. Fill pie shell. Peel remaining pear, slice thinly and lay on top of pear filling in circular pattern. Sprinkle with two tablespoons sugar, dot with butter. Bake at 400 degrees for 15 minutes, then at 325 degrees for 25 minutes more.

If top pears seem to be drying, cover them with foil, but do not cover pastry edges entirely as this will make pie soggy. Take the hot pie to table with warm bourbon. Hold a match to the bourbon to ignite, then pour flowing liquor over pie. Serve with heavy cream to about six persons.

Cranberry Apple Pie

6 cups, peeled, sliced green apples
1 1/2 cups pricked cranberries
2 cups broken walnuts
4 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 cup granulated sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch

Old-Fashioned Cranberry Pie, framed in a golden brown latticed pastry, makes a pretty-as-a-picture dessert. This is an excellent recipe to file away for holiday use later in the year. The filling, juicy with ruby-red cranberries, is flavored delicately with almond to make it just a bit different and the quick pie crust method is a real time saver.

A Chiffon Version of the autumn favorite... pumpkin pie... is shown here. Its creamy filling is combined with the usual zippy spices and blended with a brown sugar sweetness. To make it more delightful, serve it in a crunchy graham cracker crust.

Problem-Solving Furniture Arrangement Idea

Here's a furniture arrangement that hardly belongs, and leaving a corner which could so easily be used for a desk or a writing table. By facing a chair outward from the wall rather than toward the sofa opposite, the conversation grouping is improved. The corner of an ottoman is fitted in and the arrangement looks spaciouly open rather than cramped together. And the odd corner is no longer cut off as it happens between crowding in something finds room for a desk, smoothly adjoining the upholstered chair and convenient for use from it as well as from the desk chair.

Write today for the most help you ever had in planning room arrangement. Ask for Elizabeth Hillyer's FURNITURE ARRANGEMENT KIT, which provides 126 furniture cut-outs scaled to actual furniture sizes, supplemented by floor plan paper, full instructions and good advice. Pumpkin Chiffon Pie
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar, divided
1/2 teaspoon each, salt, nutmeg and ginger
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup evaporated milk
3 eggs, separated
1 1/2 cups canned pumpkin
9-inch baked crumb shell

Mix together gelatin, 1/2 cup of the brown sugar, salt and spices in medium saucepan. Stir in evaporated milk and egg yolks, blend well. Place over low heat and cook, stirring constantly, until gelatin dissolves and mixture thickens slightly, about three minutes.

Remove from heat; stir in pumpkin. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds when dropped from a spoon, about one hour. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add remaining fourth cup of brown sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold into pumpkin mixture. Turn into pie shell, chill until firm (4 to 6 hours or overnight).

Graham Cracker Pie Crust
1 1/2 cups graham cracker crumbs
3 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 melted butter

Combine crumbs, sugar and spices in mixing bowl. Stir in melted butter until thoroughly blended. Pack mixture firmly in to 9-inch pie plate and press firmly to bottom and sides, bringing crumbs evenly up to rim. Bake in a 350-degree oven for eight minutes. Cool.

Pair Weds In-Double Ring Rite

Miss Katherine Lois Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Johnson, route 1, Bear Creek, became the bride of Harold Anthony Jarvis, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Jarvis, route 1, Bear Creek, at 9 a.m. Saturday.

The Rev. Robert Hogan officiated at the double ring ceremony in the rectory of St. Mary Catholic Church, Bear Creek.

Mrs. Kieth Olmsted, Bear Creek, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. Best man was Kieth Olmsted.

A dinner was at the home of the bride's parents and a reception at Clintonville American Legion Hall.

The bride is a graduate of Clintonville High School and was employed at Aid Association for Lutherans. Her husband was graduated from Bear Creek High School, served in the Army and is self-employed as a milk hauler for Black Creek Corners Cheese Factory.

The newlyweds will reside on route 1, Bear Creek.

Hospital Unit Names Officers

Mrs. William Landreman was elected president of Kaukauna Hospital Auxiliary Monday. Members were given a tour of the new wing on the hospital after the session.

Other officers named were Mrs. Malcolm Jacobson, vice president; Mrs. Thomas Bauer, treasurer; Mrs. Donald Lappen, recording secretary, and Mrs. Louise McGoey, corresponding secretary.

Good Advice

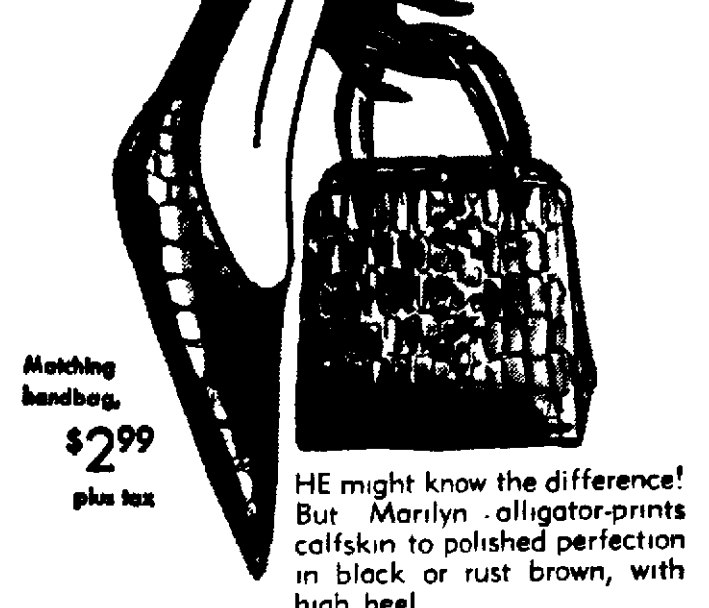

Note to brides: serve hot foods on hot plates, cold foods on cold plates!

Men May Pay Extremely High Price for Small Convenience

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have a problem which I've never seen in your column. Furthermore I've never heard of anyone who has had this kind of trouble.

My husband insists that I leave the door to our apartment open between 5:30 and 6 in the evening when he is expected home for dinner. He just yearns to dig around for his key. I should tell you that he usually carries a brief case and some books so I concede it may be a bit of a nuisance.

I've offered to unlock the door immediately if he will only knock, whistle or ring, but this isn't good enough! He can't stand to wait. He wants the door to be open so he can walk right in.

Yesterday he got so mad he yelled loud enough for the neighbors to hear "If this door isn't open tomorrow I'm going to kick it down!" What do you suggest?

— Browbeaten

Dear Brow: Of course it would be more convenient if the door were open so he could walk right in. It would be even more convenient if there were no door at all. But a grown man should have sense enough to realize that if he could walk in, so could any vagrant, thief or leech.

Tell him to grow up. A major symptom of infantile behavior is the inability to defer to others. The inconvenience of using his key is a trifle compared with what he stands to lose by insisting that you leave the door open.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My 10-year-old daughter was behaving badly in a department store yesterday. She was running up and down the aisles, pulling dresses off the hangers and opening stock drawers. I told her repeatedly to stop it. She'd say "O. K., Mommy," and two minutes later she'd do something else.

When my back was turned she climbed on a table and stuck her hand in a bird cage. This was the limit so I gave her a swat on the behind. She howled for a minute then behaved perfectly.

A close friend who was with me criticized me for spanking the child in public. She said only low class people do this and I should have waited until we got home. Do you agree? — Criticized

Dear Criticized: The most effective punishment is the kind handed out on the spot.

Time takes on strange dimensions to youngsters. An hour can seem like a week. Had you waited until you got home she might have forgotten that she behaved badly. My only criticism is that you didn't let her have it sooner.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A friend who works near my place of employment rides to and from work with me almost every day. Sometimes he invites a friend or two to ride along. This has been going on for almost two years.

Not once has he offered to buy gas or oil for the car. I wonder if he thinks a car runs on "Thank you." I am not a petty person, nor am I in bad financial shape, but I hate to be a sap. What are your feelings on this subject?

— Free Taxi

Dear Free: People who accept favors should reciprocate in some manner. Perhaps your friend feels you would be insulted if he offered to fill the tank. An occasional gift would show appreciation. In any event, "Thanks for the ride" day after day is not enough.

Are you tempted to smoke because the crowd does? If so, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Teenage Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Gifts Pouring in For Princess' First Baby

LONDON (AP)—Britain's royal family usually accepts only official gifts, but Princess Margaret is making an exception of clothing for her first baby due later this month.

Queen Elizabeth II did the same thing when Prince Andrew was born in February, 1960.

Maj. John Griffin, Margaret's press secretary, said gifts of clothing for the baby are pouring into Kensington Palace, the princess' London home, and she doesn't want to offend or disappoint so many well-wishers.

No gifts will be accepted from commercial firms, Griffin said, "but baby clothes from private well-wishers and charitable organizations will be most welcome."

An exquisite white silk crib cover when Prince Andrew was born in February, 1960.

The set is embroidered with pale pastel-colored flowers including snowdrops and forget-me-nots and trimmed with white bows.

The silk came from Worms at Zoe, Lady Hart Dyke's silk farm near Ayot St. Lawrence and the crib set was made by five inmates at the hostel for crippled and invalid women workers in South London.

The princess was reported "absolutely delighted" with it.

The set is embroidered with pale pastel-colored flowers including snowdrops and forget-me-nots and trimmed with white bows.

"We chose the colors so that it will not matter whether the princess has a boy or a girl," said Mrs. Dorren Gray, secretary of the hostel.

"The set is delicate but also extremely practical—it will wash and wash."

The commonly used blue black ink is an iron ink. That is, it contains iron and a tannin compound as well as some dyestuff. VISITING CARDS
Are visiting cards still in vogue? What purpose do they serve?
Louise Davis Answers:
Visiting cards as such aren't in vogue because formal calls have been on the wane for a long time. But the cards have many uses. Of course they should be engraved, not printed. They are used for gift enclosures, flowers for funerals and for formal birth announcements to which tiny cards are attached by a pink or blue ribbon, giving the infants' names and dates of birth. A visiting card is often used when there is a death of a friend or acquaintance. Under the engraved name is hand-written a brief message such as "deepest sympathy." The card in its envelope is then delivered in person or by messenger to the home of the bereaved. It may also be mailed, providing the envelope is large enough to comply with the Post Office request. Visiting cards are also occasionally used as invitations to an informal party such as a tea, tea dance or card party. The information including the date and hour is hand written. It may also contain an R S V P in the lower left corner and mailed in a regulation sized envelope to match the card's paper and shade. Prospective guests' visiting cards may also be used for the acceptances and regrets.

West Coast Hairdresser Has Own Style Ideas

"I have no doubt of it," he said. "When Marilyn was going to the hospital in New York, she phoned me and asked me to do her hair. I had just flown back from Europe that day. But I flew to New York for three hours."

Sheinwold Drop Trick To Right

When you must lose a trick in a suit, give it up to the opponent who can do no serious damage. West opens the king of diamonds, and you must let him hold the trick. This costs nothing, since you are sure to lose a diamond trick sooner or later. West leads a low diamond next, and you win with the ace. Now you must tackle the trumps by taking dummy's king and then finessing through East for the queen. As it happens, this finesse works. You draw the last trump and run the clubs to discard a spade from dummy. You lose only one spade and one diamond, making your contract with an overtrick. The plan was to keep East from winning a trick because you could not afford to let East lead a spade through your king. Contract is Safe. You were lucky to find the queen of hearts in the East hand, but your contract was safe even if West had the queen of hearts. He would win a trump trick if he had the queen, but he could do no damage by leading spades. You would lose only one spade, one trump and one diamond. Why was it necessary to let West win the first diamond trick? Imagine that you won the first diamond in dummy and then tried a trump finesse, and that West had the queen of hearts. He would lead a low diamond to lead a spade through your king. By refusing the first diamond trick you give the sure diamond loser to the safe opponent rather than to the dangerous opponent. Forty-four members of the Evening Club toured the County Home at Appleton after which they met at the Kaukauna Vocational School to hear a talk on the Youth Center by Fred Barribeau, director.

Barribeau explained rules and regulations in the Center, outlined various activities and told of city functions in which teenagers participated. Purpose of the center is to give students a place to learn to socialize with others of the same age, a good neat dart. Do you have indicated Barribeau. Last year only Mrs. L. Questions On Sewing

There is a simple and sure way to solve almost every sewing problem.

Q You have talked about underlining so much that I now underline almost everything. I'm delighted with the results, but I do come across one problem all the time. When sewing the darts with the two fabrics together, the underlining slips and I never get a good neat dart. Do you have any hints? Mrs. L. J.

A Yes, I do have a hint, a very simple one. After you have basted the underlining to the outer fabric, mark your darts on the fabric. Then baste through both fabrics along the center allowance at intervals around the marking of the dart to a point a bit beyond the point of the dart. Then you can stitch your darts without encountering the slipping problem. After dart is stitched, remove basting.

line. Mrs. V. P.

A Cut a bias strip the width you wish. Pin strip to garment, right sides together (fig. 1). At the point, join edges of the bias strip with a plain seam, being careful to fit it to the garment properly.

Also, be sure you stitch on the grainline. Press seam open (fig. 2). Now, stitch the facing to the underlining. Then, trim edges, clip seam both fabrics along the center allowance at intervals around the curve and at the point. Turn the facing to the inside of the dress. Understitch close to the seam on the facing side through both seam allowances to keep the facing from creeping up and showing on the right side. Baste the facing down. Finish the raw edge of the facing by edge-stitching, pinking or overcasting. Press and slip stitch finished edge invisibly to dress (fig. 3). If fabric is lightweight, do not slipstitch to dress, but tack securely at shoulder seams.

Q My waistline is two inches larger than the pattern size I must use. How can I alter the pattern to fit? Miss L. I.

A Add 1/2 inch to each side seam. Then taper to nothing at the armhole of the bodice and hipline of the skirt. You can also add up to 1/4 inch to each waist dart.

Miss Scott is always glad to hear from her readers, and whenever possible will use their questions in her column, but because of the great volume of mail received daily, she cannot answer individual letters.

For your copy of "Fifteen Gifts You Can Make," write to Patricia Scott in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover printing and handling costs. The subjects for this fascinating booklet were selected from among Miss Scott's most popular columns.

Scientific Mate Selection Called Ally to Romance

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Marriages are supposed to be made in heaven, but a young psychologist here believes machine-made matings have a better chance for survival. "They do as much as possible to eliminate chance," said Dr. Eric Riss, 32, who feels a scientific approach to marriage pays off in greater wedded bliss.

Dr. Riss, a Brooklyn College faculty member, is board chairman of Scientific Introduction Service, Inc., which puts his theories into practice—for a price.

"Sociologists have known for years the factors that go into making a happy marriage, but little was done about it," he said. "How does a scientific approach to marriage operate?" Dr. Riss or his assistants submit each marital prospect to an exhaustive interview to find his likes and dislikes, family background, and goals in life.

Some 70 personality traits are indexed on a card for each person. The cards are then run through an electronic sorter. The machine acts as a preliminary, not a final matchmaker. It picks out the people who, according to scientific theory, have the best chances for a successful marriage.

They are then introduced—and it is up to them to decide whether the machine is a prophet, or merely a push-button mechanical busybody.

"We look for personality factors that complement each other as well as those that are alike," Dr. Riss said.

"People don't look for someone just like themselves, but for a partner who can fill their needs. For example, a man with a stern outlook on life might need and want a wife with a more relaxed nature."

Here are some of Dr. Riss' findings:

Important Similarities

"Perhaps 15 to 20 per cent of people don't really need marriage."

"The divorce rate for the United States as a whole is one for every four marriages. There has been less than one divorce for every 300 marriages we have helped arrange on scientific principles."

"This is not a cold method—but a real ally to romance. Those who fall in love do so head over heels."

Dr. Riss and his wife, a former medical social worker, have a young son. His card won't go into the marriage machine for some years.

Merger of Families Works Out Fine; Everyone Helps

CARMEL, Calif. (AP)—When Helen North was married a month ago, more than one veteran housewife gasped at the 31-year-old widow's prospects for domestic tranquility.

Mrs. North, the mother of eight, married Navy Chief Warrant Officer Francis Louis Beardsley, the father of 10. The children range from a diapered 18-month-old to 17 years.

Before the couple went on a short honeymoon, the Beardsley home was being doubled in size with the kitchen geared to restaurant-style operations.

"Well," a reporter asked Tuesday, "how are things working out?"

"I'm enjoying myself," she said. As she explained it, her day works out something like this: Up a bit earlier than the average family—about 6 a.m. The children take care of the main breakfast chores—"They all have their assignments."

12 in School

During school days, 12 attend classes, leaving six at home "who get along fine." On other days, the older children again take over much of the burden.

The children also take care of the housekeeping and help with the shopping.

And what does Mrs. Beardsley do? "There's the laundry. And I like to make desserts during the day. It is nothing like I expected. I'm enjoying myself."

And she added: "I defy anyone to tell which ones are North's and which ones are Beardsley's now."

Just before the wedding ceremony, someone asked the bride

Red Congress Shows Cracks, Strains, Problems in USSR

Lost Amid Political Stringpulling Official Function of Big Show

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Staff Writer
The Soviet Communist party opens its 22nd congress Tuesday. Intensive propaganda promises it will mark the beginning of a march to Communist world supremacy. To dramatize Communist Soviet policy under Nikita Khrushchev appears to be riding high, but the Communist chief has plenty of headaches, at home and in the world Communist camp outside the U.S.S.R. Some of these problems are likely to become evident during the 22nd Soviet Communist party congress which opens in Moscow next week.

Signs of nervous strain in Soviet party and world Communist ranks. Premier Khrushchev, first secretary and party chief, promises the congress will be a turning point. It will consider a 20-year program to build the "base" of communism. Theoretically, the U.S.S.R. has built "socialism," Communism, implying promise of abundance, is many years away. Party congresses in their 63 years of history often have been billed as momentous turning points. Many have cloaked internal struggles. In recent years congresses provided—as the 22nd will—platforms to consider problems and strategy.

What is the party congress? The congress supposedly is the party's ruling body, to which the central committee and its directing presidium are responsible. Required to meet once every three years, it is made up of functionally he was preparing for a new estate to the empire. Indeed, in 1961. That is his own baby, and purge. He enlarged the politburo some respects, they experienced conceivably he could be made to a presidium in which old losses.

For hard-shell Stalinists, the world revolution moved too slowly. Communists were set back in the Middle East, notably in Iraq. Moscow quarreled with Gamal Abdel Nasser, spokesman for Arab nationalism. Communism was hesitant about pushing ahead in Indochina. It was plagued by ideological bickering with Yugoslav Communists on one hand and Chinese on the other. It made no headway in economically flourishing Europe. It gained Cuba, but that was dumped in its lap and was by no means reliable or secure.

Inside the Communist world there were political and economic strains. Attempts to integrate the European Red bloc economies brought problems to individual Communist governments. There were strains in the stake. He turned back to the brink U.S.S.R. itself. Party propaganda means many more years of labor for a people impatient to share in the riches now poured into heavy industry. Its political duty to build world power.

Clear testimony to trouble was the rash of new decrees. One re-instituted the death penalty and applied it to such ordinarily non-capital offenses as stealing and embezzlement.

Khrushchev's virgin lands program, supposed to help solve the chronic Soviet bloc agricultural problem, fared badly again in

Red Ambassador To Netherlands Flies to Moscow

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—Soviet Ambassador Panteleimon K. Ponomarenko, who was involved in an airport fracas with free Dutch police over the defection of a Soviet scientist, flew to Moscow today. Angry demands for Ponomarenko's expulsion by the Dutch government have been made as a result of Monday's brawl which ended with a Soviet chemist, Alexei Golub, seeking asylum here while his wife returned to Russia. The fight started when police refused to return the women's passport until they were sure she was leaving of her own volition.

Ponomarenko told newsmen he expected to be back in Amsterdam in two weeks, after the 22nd Congress of the Soviet Communist party.

Tax Conference Agrees on One Item

Taxpayer Shouldn't Suffer, But No Agreement on Withholding

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — A Republican Democratic tax conference committee seemed to agree Wednesday that if the state enacts a payroll withholding law to replace the self-assessment method of collecting state personal income taxes, the state treasury should not profit from the exchange at the expense of the individual taxpayer.

But there was no sign of agreement, as Gov. Nelson and his Democratic legislative minority spokesmen continued to negotiate with spokesmen for the Republican legislative majority, about the need for a withholding law or that it would be beneficial.

No Merits Discussed
The merits of the issue that has been hotly debated in Wisconsin in the three years since Gov. Nelson proposed it were not touched upon. Nelson merely conceded Wednesday that the so-called "windfall" in state receipts that would result from the acceleration of yield under the withholding should be returned to the taxpayer in the form of partial forgiveness of his accrued taxes.

Republican leaders recognized the governor's statement for what it was, a considerable retreat from his earlier position. Several of them indicated that they wanted an even more liberal "forgiveness" but they did not press the point. Instead, they appeared likely to differ strongly from the governor on the method of distributing the "forgiveness" taxes.

Nelson asked for a concession for "the little fellow," saying that the difference wouldn't be noticed by the "big fellow." He proposed complete forgiveness of all current taxes, upon the effective enactment of withholding, for all amounts of $25 or less, and a 50 per cent forgiveness beyond that amount. Such a plan would have the effect of simplifying state tax administration by wiping out the obligations of about 350,000 out of the 1,500,000 taxpayers, he said.

Progressive Concept
But Republicans objected in principle, they said. Sen. John Potter of Wisconsin Rapids told Nelson that the taxes ought to be returned in the same proportion that they were owed in the first place—according to the scale of progressivity in the tax laws. That would be treating everyone alike, he added. Nelson seemed to regard the distinction as unimportant. The big taxpayer, he repeated, wouldn't mind losing the 25

Badgers Will 'Shoot Works,' Says Bruhn

Ron Miller Under Orders to Pass More Saturday

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin coach Milt Bruhn, whose football Badgers have managed only 13 points in three games, promises to "shoot the works" in Saturday's intercollegiate meeting with Oregon State at Camp Randall Stadium.

"We're going to open up come hell or high water," Bruhn said Wednesday. "I'll be very surprised if we hold the Beavers to a touchdown or two, but I'll be disappointed if we don't break loose ourselves."

Bruhn said that quarterback Ron Miller would be under orders to pass a lot more than in the first three games. Despite their meager point production, the Badgers have a 2-1 record. And Miller has tossed only 34 times, completing 30, to rank sixth in the nation.

'Too Cautious'

"We've been too cautious—haven't passed enough," the Wisconsin coach said. "This week we may pass 50 per cent of the time. This is one time we're going to pass, and if there's an interception, we're going to come back and pass the ball some more."

Bruhn said that Miller put on "a passing exhibition that was tremendous" in a workout earlier this week.

"It was the best he's ever been," the coach added. "If he's that sharp against Oregon State, you'll really see something."

The Badgers also hope for better blocking which will turn loose speedy backs such as Lou Holland, Jim Nettles, Merritt Norvell and Bill Smith. Bruhn said the team has not been blocking at all and the backfield speedsters have been unable to take off on big gains.

In an attempt to get more blocking up front, Bruhn may promote two guards to starting jobs. Steve Underwood probably will open at right guard in place of the ailing Jim Schenk while Dion Kempthorne is being considered for starting guard on the other side of the line.

Robin Roberts Exepcted to Leave Phils

Quinn, Carpenter Refuse Comment On Pitcher's Case

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Both owner Bob Carpenter and General Manager John Quinn of the Philadelphia Phillies have declined comment about pitcher Robin Roberts asking to leave the club. But the feeling among observers is that he'll be released on waivers or as a free agent.

Wednesday was the first time Roberts stated publicly that he wanted to leave the Phillies but it was said that he had asked Carpenter privately in 1960 to be traded.

"It would be better for everyone if I left the Phillies," Roberts said Wednesday after being bypassed by the two new National League teams in a player draft.

Many baseball observers feel that Roberts wasn't picked because of his salary, a reported $35,000. They also point out that New York or Houston will pick him up for much less than the $75,000 in the draft if he is offered on waivers or given his release to negotiate as a free agent.

Angels Cut Kluszewski, Rice, Bridges

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Angels have cut three veterans from their roster in an attempt to better their eighth place finish in the American League last season.

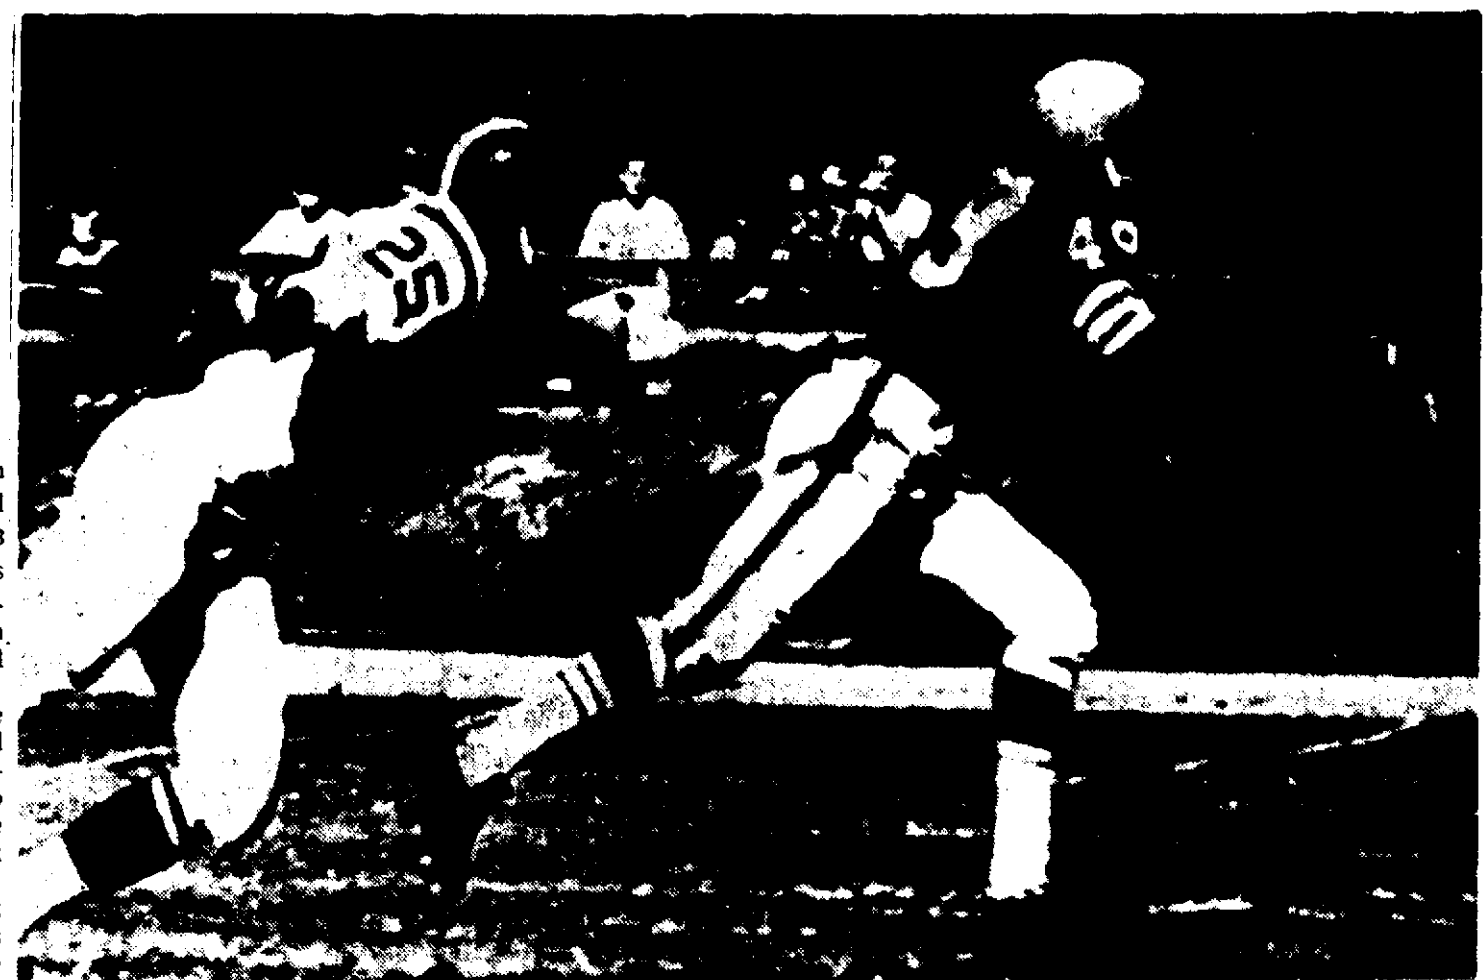

Given their outright release Wednesday were first baseman Ted Kluszewski, who had a $20,000 contract; catcher Del Rice and infielder Rocky Bridges.

"We must make room for younger players on the roster," said General Manager Fred Haney. "We plan to retain Rice and Bridges in our organization and their jobs will be determined later. They contributed to our showing this year and we feel they can be of service to us in the years ahead."

Boston Patriots Sign Joe Johnson

BOSTON (AP) — Joe Johnson, former back with the Green Bay Packers, was signed by the Boston Patriots of the American Football League Wednesday to replace the injured Tommy Stephens.

Johnson, 30, will be used as a tight end in the Boston offense. He played six games with the Patriots last year.

The Mid-Eastern, Midwest and Little Nine Conferences threw us a pair of curves apiece last week to pull ye olde average down to the low point for '61.

Packers over Browns — In what could be a preview of the December title game, this sizzler offers head-on clashes between Jim Taylor and Jim Brown, between Paul Hornung and Bobby Mitchell and between Bart Starr and Milt Plum. This will be no 20-point, 24-point and 38-point win frolic such as the Bays have enjoyed recently but their defensive might should provide a tight victory.

Brown Wisconsin over Oregon States — Mighty fortunate to be carrying a 2-1 record after scoring only one touchdown in three games, the offensively-disappointing Badgers are about ready to break loose.

Lawrence over Monmouth — The Vikings, who have played much better ball than their 1-2 record indicates, will be aiming to give the home folks another treat such as they dished out against Knox Sept. 30.

Xavier over St. Mary — The battling Zephyrs will have the title-defense incentive going for them, but the fast-winged Hawks have too many guns.

Kaukauna over Two Rivers — The talented Kaukauna machine isn't going to let a little thing like Friday the 13th stop it from gaining its 13th straight win. Rather, it will be a bad night for the Raiders, who'll be seeing Ghosts — and lots of them.

Appleton over Fond du Lac — This will be by far the Terrors' best chance to date to crash the conference win column. There is little to choose between the teams on their FRVC records to date, but AHS has a little better potential.

Neenah over Kimberly — The Rockets will take their last week's scoring frustrations out on the Papermakers.

New London over Clintonville — The overdue Truckers are apt to erupt at homecoming time. But, the Bulldogs have too slick an offense to be slowed down for very long.

Shawano over Menasha — The Indians gained confidence with their win over Clintonville last Friday.

St. John over Marinette Catholic — The Chuters just don't lose two games in a row.

Fox Lutheran over Lakeside — Homecoming enthusiasm will help the Foxes square their season's record.

Midwest Conference — Grinnell over Coe, Cornell over Beloit, Carleton over Knox, St. Olaf over Ripon.

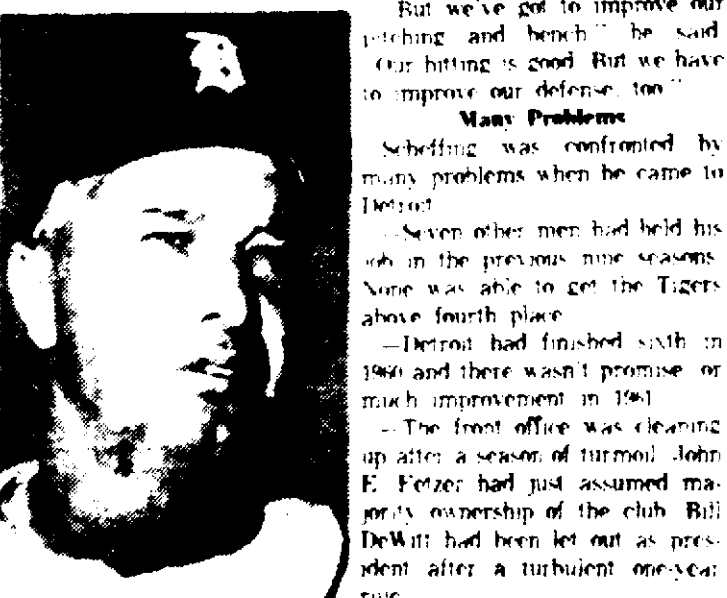

Fox Valley Conference — Oshkosh over East, Manitowish over South, West over North.

Other Games — Premontre over Pennings, Lourdes over Springs, Omro over Shiocton, Hortonville over Freedom, Winneconne over Wrightstown, Weyauwega over Marion, Waupaca over Manawa, Wittenberg over Bonduel, Brillion over Kohler.

'Team Deserves Award' Bob Scheffing Named AL's Manager of Year

DETROIT (AP) — Bob Scheffing, in The Associated Press' annual weather-beaten ex-catcher poll, was named manager of the year by the Chicago Cubs, became manager of the Detroit Tigers before the 1961 season knowing he faced an obstacle course.

He took over one of baseball's most tangled up clubs, guided it to second place and Wednesday was named the American League's Manager of the Year.

Cleveland's Bobby Mitchell and Green Bay's Paul Hornung, whose teams clash Sunday, are big threats as pass receivers as well as runners. In the upper photo, Mitchell snares a 52-yard touchdown pass from Milt Plum against Washington last Sunday. (Joe Koski is the defender). Below, Hornung is shown grabbing a pass in a recent Packer game.

Happy While Winning Hornung Comes Close To Being '1-Man Gang'

GREEN BAY (AP) — He admitted he "felt good" about breaking another Hutson record (the team mark of 31 points in a game), but that he wasn't thinking about it. He explained that Hutson was "20 years ahead of the game" and "it's a real incentive to break one of Hutson's marks."

No individual in the tough National Football League can be called truthfully a "one man gang." But Hornung probably comes closest to deserving such an honor.

The 25-year-old blond bomber is making a place for himself among the NFL's all-time greats with this tremendous running, pass-receiving, place-kicking, passing threat on the option and jarring blocks in Green Bay's bruising ground game.

Bonus Selection

The 215-pound Hornung, the Packers' 1957 bonus selection after he won the Heisman Trophy as the nation's outstanding collegiate player while a senior at Notre Dame, is well on the way to his third straight NFL scoring championship.

He won the title with 94 points in 1959 and then set a league record by piling up 176 on 15 touchdowns, 15 field goals and 41 extra points in 12 games last year. The production shattered the old mark of 138 points set by Green Bay's Don Hutson in 1942.

Helped by a 33-point outburst in a 45-7 rout of Baltimore last Sunday, Hornung has a total of 64 points in four games this year. He leads his closest pursuer, Lenny Moore of the Colts, by 16 points, with 10 regular season removal of bone chips from his right elbow Wednesday and it was predicted he would be able to pitch again next season.

Hornung called his performance typical fashion, he added quickly said Sunday. "This was the best team I've cast for about 10 days and that even seen at Green Bay. One of with normal healing the elbow, fensive blocking was out of this would be sound again by next spring."

As for setting more records, Hornung said: "As long as we're winning I'm happy. And as long as I'm happy I'll keep playing. The living is good."

Turley's Surgery Called Successful

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Turley, right-handed pitcher with the New York Yankees, successfully underwent an operation for the removal of bone chips from his right elbow Wednesday and it was predicted he would be able to pitch again next season.

Dr. Sidney Gaynor, club physician, said the surgery was a typical fashion, he added quickly said Sunday. "This was the best team I've cast for about 10 days and that even seen at Green Bay. One of with normal healing the elbow, fensive blocking was out of this would be sound again by next spring."

What is expected to be an exciting and, eventually, a traditional intra-Fox Cities football rivalry will be inaugurated Friday night when defending champion St. Mary visits unbeaten Xavier at Goodland Field.

The Hawks take 3-0 league and 5-0 over-all logs in to the tussle while St. Mary owns a 2-1 mark, including 2-0-1 in the Fox Valley Catholic Conference. The Zephyrs are unbeaten, but once tied, in their last seven FVCC engagements.

Premontre, tied for first place with Xavier, takes on Pennings in their all-Norbertine series Friday at Minahan Stadium. The Cadets are top-heavy favorites to drub the winless Squires.

The other two league affairs are docketed for Sunday afternoon. Lourdes plays at Fond du Lac Springs while St. John will attempt to recoup from its trouncing by Xavier in a home affair against Marinette Catholic Central.

Goal Uncrossed

Not only is Xavier unbeaten, but it hasn't been scored on in three league games. St. Mary, which had blanked two straight league foes, allowed 19 points to Pennings but came up with its best offensive effort (42 points) of the year and one of the best in the school's history. The Hawks have averaged 36 points for their three league tests.

The Zephyrs again will be without quarterback Bill Starr, who has an ankle injury, but Adrian Martin capably piloted them to victory over Pennings. Several other Zephyrs are hampered by injuries but probably will be ready by Friday.

Xavier boasts the conference's leading scorer in Pete Werner, who has scored seven touchdowns. Bob Bleier is tied for third.

St. Mary Alumnus

In addition to this being a natural rivalry because of the geographic location, several other factors add interest. Xavier Coach Gene Clark is a St. Mary alumnus and athletic great while Tom Schuepper, Tom Peeters, Dick Wiesner and Kip Whittlinger of the Hawks are Twin Citizens and will be competing against boys with whom they played with or against in grade school. Zephyr guard Joe King is a transfer from Xavier.

Although this will be the first football meeting, it is the third at a major sport level. St. Mary having won twice in basketball last season.

St. John tries to rebound against a Marinette Catholic team which is still looking for its first win. The 34-0 loss to Xavier was the season.

That's the understatement of the year.

The Appleton High School Terrors will journey to Fond du Lac Friday night in quest of their first Fox River Valley Conference victory of the season.

Fond du Lac will also be looking for its first victory.

The Cardinals have dented the enemy goal five times in 1961 while the Terrors have crossed opponents' goal lines on only two occasions in league play.

According to conference statistics, Appleton is last in both total offense and defense. The Terrors rank fifth in passing offense and fourth in passing defense.

The same defense that has given up a total of 849 yards rushing has allowed only eight of 20 passes to be completed against it.

'Not Hurt Much,'
McHale Says After Draft Is Complete

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves had plenty of trade bait left over today after picking up $425,000 for five expendable players drafted by the new Houston Colts and the New York Mets.

Immediately after the club stocking draft at Cincinnati Tuesday, Braves president and general manager John McHale left for New York for apparent trade talks.

Untouched by Houston and New York in the draft were such players as Gino Cimoli, Bob Boyd, Johnny Antonelli, Bob Hartman, Seth Morehead and Sammy White. None figures highly in Milwaukee's 1962 plans.

The Braves lost outfielders Al Spangler and Johnny DeMerit, infielder-outfielder Felix Mantilla, catcher Merritt Ranew and right-handed pitcher Paul Roof to the National League's two new clubs.

Not Hurt Much

"We weren't hurt much," McHale said with a smile.

The Braves appeared most concerned by the loss of Ranew and Roof, two rookie prospects. Ranew, 23, hit .347 in 63 games for Louisville in the American Association this year while Roof, 19, had a 5-6 record for Cedar Rapids in the Three-I League before he suffered a sore arm late in the season.

"Ranew is a very fine hitter with a good chance of being a big league catcher, and Roof could be a dandy with a fast ball," McHale said.

Spangler was a "premium" choice of the Colts on the draft's last selection. It netted the Braves $125,000 for a 28-year-old player who hit .268 in 68 games for them in 1960 and .267 in 101 games this year.

Appeared Wasted

The other four players were drafted for $75,000 apiece as the Braves got back some "bonus" money which appeared wasted.

DeMerit, 25-year-old former Wisconsin star from Port Washington, never developed after receiving a $100,000 bonus in 1957. He hit only .164 in 63 games with Milwaukee this season, but the Mets picked him in the 10th round of the draft.

Mantilla, 27, has been a versatile utilityman playing second, short, third and three outfield positions in six seasons with the Braves. He hit .215 in 44 games the past season, and wound up the Mets' sixth round draft selection.

The Colts took Ranew in the ninth round and Roof in the 14th.

Relief specialist Don McMahon reportedly was taken off the Milwaukee "premium" list at the last moment. The other player on the list with Spangler is believed to have been Bob Hawk Taylor, another $100,000 bonus outfielder.

Liska Selects Badgers Over Oregon State

BY JERRY LISKA

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Midwest Football seer's batting average looked much better than the Cincinnati Reds' last weekend with a clean prognosticating sweep for a season mark of 13-2-1 (.857).

Here's another bounce of the crystal ball.

Michigan 20, Michigan State 18 — A shaky bet on Michigan's more seasoned quarterbacking and rugged linemen. The game is at Ann Arbor and Michigan's big bowl will be jumping with Wolverine whooping. The contest could be the key to the Big Ten title, especially since Michigan State's Spartan's do not meet Iowa or Ohio State.

Northwestern 19, Minnesota 12 — Are the Wildcats for real? The Gophers figure to be much tougher than Boston College and Illinois, both clawed badly, as the Wildcats looked a surprise runner fullback Bill Sullivan. Northwestern could make the mistake of looking ahead to the following Saturday clash with Ohio State.

Iowa 21, Indiana 7 — Iowa's Buckeyes may not get the breathers they expected against an Indiana club which refused to be mired around by Wisconsin. The illustrious Coach Jerry Burns this week cracked the whip over a Huckleberry defense that was real mucky against Southern California's spirited Trojans. Iowa will have to perk considerably to remain in the ranking Big Ten contender.

Ohio State 24, Illinois 7 — It looks like a long, long season for Pea Elliott's green Illinois. The Buckies can make it, trying fancy stuff or just typical Buckeye cloud-of-dusting.

Purdue 18, Miami of Ohio 4 — The Miami Redskins have pulled the rug from under Big Ten teams before, but the Boilermakers will be tough after being lucked out by Notre Dame.

Notre Dame 19, Southern California 14 — The Irish showed steady improvement in whipping both Oklahoma and Purdue. They'll have to keep gathering steam against Southern California which nearly up-ended Iowa. However, the 22-20 squeeze past Purdue may have launched the Irish on their long-awaited comeback to national prominence.

Wisconsin 19, Oregon State 13 — One of these Saturdays that touted Badger aerial attack has to start dropping some real bombs.

Worst of at least one of the most severe ever suffered by a Bill Fitzpatrick-coached squad. Snowed Under Twice Marquette posted two non-league wins but then was snowed by Xavier and Prentiss. They showed signs of recovering against Lourdes and then blew a half-time lead.

Lourdes, which not only picked its first league win but scored its first EVCC points at Marquette, runs into an unexcused Fond du Lac team after being held to a scoreless tie by St. Mary's on Monday night. Was crushed by Prentiss, 63-0, on Saturday.

Penning and Prentiss, both operated by the Norbertine order, have been meeting in football since 1944 and although the Cadets have won every encounter, frequently the games are close even though the Bays usually go in a big favorite.

Scheffing Manager of Year in AL

a rebuild-with-youth program. Fetzger gave him a two-year contract to show his ability.

—He was a second choice. Casey Stengel, let loose just a few weeks before by the New York Yankees, was Fetzger's first choice.

"I don't mind it at all," said Scheffing the day he was introduced last November as the Tigers' new manager. "I'd like to be second to Stengel all the time."

105 of 174 votes

Scheffing received 105 votes from 174 writers of the Baseball Writers' Association of America. Second to Scheffing was Ralph Houk, the man who replaced Stengel as manager of the Yankees. Houk received 62 votes.

Bill Rigney of the Los Angeles Angels received six and Jimmie Dykes, fired recently by the Cleveland Indians, one. The voting was based on regular season play with the Yankees' victory in the World Series not considered.

Scheffing was fired in 1959 after three years of managing the Cubs.

Before the season ended, Fetzger rewarded Scheffing with a raise and a new contract through 1963.

McIlhenny on Waivers

Steelers Trainer Jokingly Threatens to Go on Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The man said the Detroit action left the Rams no alternative but to withdraw the waivers.

The Rams had put him on waivers in hopes all teams would pass him up, permitting them to release him and resign him in 30 days. Meanwhile, another player would have been added to the roster.

Among the Steelers injured are quarterback Bobby Layne, linebacker Mike Henry and backer Len Barmett. End Preston Carpenter is a borderline case and guards Mike Sandusky and John Nasty may not see action Sunday in the Steelers' National Football League game against Washington.

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League put Don McIlhenny, veteran back, on waivers Wednesday.

McIlhenny, the former Southern Methodist player, was with Green Bay for four years and joined the Cowboys last season. He had been used at fullback.

The Cowboys now are down to 25 players, one under the limit.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams said Wednesday they were recalling waivers on Martin McKeever, guard who suffered a knee injury at San Francisco Sunday.

The Detroit Lions, whom the Rams play Sunday, claimed McKeever after San Francisco with drew its claim. A Rams spokesman said a cast of Hollis' right wrist will be removed in seven to 10 days "and we may be able to tell then if he is out for the year."

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—Iowa's top two backs may be sidelined for the season and a third-string quarterback is running a team that includes an end at fullback and a fullback at left half.

Despite these problems, Hawk-eye Coach Jerry Burns feels his undefeated team may regain its top national football ranking before the season is over.

"I have every confidence in Matt Szykowny at quarterback, and feel our backfield will become more fluid, positive and promoted to it has been," he said Wednesday.

Proof of Ranking

"And I think our drop from first to second place" in the national Associated Press poll "will help us, because the boys were proud of their national ranking. I am hopeful they will be determined to recover any prestige they lost," the rookie coach added.

He said, however, that the Hawkeyes will have to do it without the help of quarterback Wilburn Hollis and left halfback Larry Ferguson. All-Big Ten choices last year. Both are injured.

"We are making our plans for the rest of the year under the belief that they won't be back for the entire season," Burns said.

Three Touchdowns

Williams scored three touchdowns against USC in his first game as a halfback. Perkins, seeing heavy duty for the first time, gained 94 yards in 10 carries, including one 59-yard burst.

Szykowny, a good passer but not a strong runner, lettered as a sophomore a year ago but was on the third team when the 1961 season opened.

Burns said the loss of Hollis—Iowa's leading scorer last year and a threat as both a runner and passer—won't force a change in the Hawkeyes' explosive wing-T attack.

"Szykowny of course is not the runner Hollis is, but we will keep our attack balanced between running and passing. I am confident we will beat Indiana Saturday."

Expect Yanks Will Sign Houk For Two Years

Salary Will Be About $40,000 For Each Season

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees happily paying the price of their 19th World Series championship, are expected to sign Manager Ralph Houk to a two-year contract today at an estimated $40,000 a season.

The champs, who set the trend Wednesday by handing relief ace Luis Arroyo a bonus reported at $5,000 for his performance during the 1961 season, have called a press conference at which Houk's signing is expected to be announced.

The 42-year-old fighting major is expected to get started on a telephone, much-fishing junket to Florida and Yankee General Manager Roy Hamey indicated the club is just as anxious to get him under contract before he heads South.

Houk signed a one-year contract for about $30,000 when he succeeded Casey Stengel as Yankee manager last fall. That he'll be back in charge next year, and probably 1963 as well, has been taken for granted. He is the third freeman manager in baseball history to win a World Series.

"He did a great job," Hamey said at the Yankee victory dinner Tuesday night. "When you consider the spot he was on, following Stengel, you'd have to say he did an exceptional job."

"He had the respect of his players all the way and personally, I never worked with a better man in all my years. We didn't have a single difference."

The bonus to Arroyo, who made 65 relief appearances, had a 15-5 record, saved 19 other games, won the fourth game of the World Series and spent all season as White Ford's second wind, unprecedented for the Yankees.

Harvey Scores Goal in Debut As NHL Coach

Harvey, nine-time NHL all star defenseman, scored what the Bruins considered the "big goal" of the night. Doug lifted a 30-footer early in the second period, with the score knotted 1-1, and the puck caromed off Boston defenseman Doug Mohn's hip past rookie goalie Don Head.

Ben Geraghty Quits Braves' Farm System

SIGNS TO MANAGE JACKSONVILLE IN INTERNATIONAL LOOP

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Ben Geraghty, a top developer of young baseball talent who was kept in the minor leagues during three changes in Milwaukee managers, has quit the Braves' organization because of a limited future.

Geraghty obtained his release from the Braves and signed a three-year contract Wednesday to manage the new Jacksonville club in the Triple-A International League.

Geraghty said he felt he was held back by the Braves despite five pennants and four second place finishes as manager of minor league clubs in the Milwaukee farm system.

"I was passed over three times Eau Claire (1-3), and Platteville when the Braves changed manager—1956, when Fred Haney was hired. In 1960, when Chuck Dressen was signed, and again in 1961 when Birdie Tebbetts replaced Dressen," Geraghty said.

He said he came closest to being manager at Milwaukee job when he was in the minors and Braves develop younger players," he said.

Hawkeyes May Lose Hollis and Ferguson For Entire Season

Burns Still Optimistic Over Chances to Regain Top Ranking

Bluejay Collide With Shawano in Bid for First Win

MENASHA — Still looking for its initial victory, Menasha enters the season with a 7-30 record at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Butte des Morts Field in its fourth Mid-Eastern Conference encounter.

The Bluejays hope to halt a 7-game losing string, accumulated on the final three games of last season and the first four this fall. At the same time, they would like to squelch Shawano's rising hopes, which went skyward after last week's 19-0 decision over Clintonville.

The Indians, with an inexperienced team and new coach, Neil Montour, opened their season with three straight losses but with each day at Butte des Morts Field in outting showed some improvement, culminated by last week's first win. Shawano fell to D. C. Everest, 33-0, in its first game, lost to New London, 19-0, after yielding all of the Bulldogs' points in the first half and then were beaten by Neenah, 39-0, although they didn't stop hitting until the final whistle blew.

3 Seniors in Lineup

The Indian starting lineup is expected to consist of Don Easterling and Tom Grover, ends; Bob Neta and Dennis Laffin, tackles; Tom Bartels and Tony Krysiak, guards; John Butch, center; Tom Wagner; quarterback Gary Laehn and Ken Seering, fullbacks; and Kurt Schoenick, fullback.

Of the 11, only Schoenick, Butch and Seering are seniors. Neta, a versatile sophomore, also is used in the backfield. Wagner, basketball starter as a sophomore last year, is a good passer and Esterling, a fine receiver. The Indians have lost Terry Berton, senior tackle-back, for the season because of a broken leg.

The Bluejays may be at near-peak strength physically with the return of halfback Bob Klapper and Center Jack Robertson.

Coach Emmett Boyce may do some experimenting at the quarterback spot as well as his defensive unit which has allowed 136 points or an average of 34 per test for the four games.

Bluejay Starters

Ken Stumpf, one of the fastest boys on the team, may open at an end spot in place of sophomore Mark Pawlowski.

Boyce is expected to pick his starting lineup from the above boys and Tom Zeleske, John Ashenbrenner and George Mason; ends: Fritz Blohm, Arnie Enz, Tom Thompson and Bill Stuck; tackles: Jim Cook, Jim Godeck, Vern Graham and Dick Deeg; guards: Robertson and John Maciejewski, centers, and George Massey, Rocky Gmeiner, Jerry Finch, Bob Opsahl, Jim Arndt and Neal Stachowicz, backs.

The Jays, unable to advance the ball on the ground or air against Kimberly last week, lost a chance to make a fast start when they failed to take advantage of a blocked punt on the Papermaker seven early in the game.

Walt Alston Re-Hired by Dodgers for '62

Manager Feels Move to New Stadium Will Help

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Walt Alston, quiet-spoken former school teacher, will manage the Los Angeles Dodgers again next year as they move into their new stadium in Chavez Ravine.

Dodger General Manager Buzzie Bavasi announced Wednesday night that the 49-year-old Alston, a resident of tiny Darrown, Ohio, will lead the Los Angeles club for the ninth consecutive season. He started in 1954 when Charlie Dressen quit because the Dodgers wouldn't give him a long-term contract.

Alston has been operating on a year-to-year basis ever since and has accounted for three National League championships, two world championships, two seconds, a third, fourth and seventh place. He is the oldest manager in the National League in point of service.

10-Game Tailspin

The Dodgers finished second this year, going into a 10-game tailspin after taking a two-game lead over Cincinnati. The team had an unusually long string of injuries and the retirement of relief pitcher Ed Roebuck because of a sore arm added to Alston's problems.

There were rumors late in the season and during the World Series that Alston might not be rehired, but Bavasi said there was no basis for them. There may be certain changes in the coaching staff, but Bavasi said he and Alston would discuss the coaching situation in a few days when they meet to plan for the 1962 season.

Alston said serious consideration would have to be given to the pitching situation, since the Dodgers lost Roger Craig, Dick Farrell and Jim Golden. Very late in the season, Roebuck was reactivated and his arm was sound again. Alston said he is encouraged over Roebuck's comeback and hopeful he shows up next spring in Vero Beach ready to win back his old berth.

"I hated to lose Gil Hodges and Norm Larker," said Alston, "and it's hard to say who'll get the first base job. I'm thinking now about Tom Harkness (from Spokane), Ron Fairly and Frank Howard (both outfielders)."

Alston says he believes the new Dodger stadium in Chavez Ravine will be a help to his club.

"Most of our power is left-handed," he said. "These hitters (Duke Snider, John Roseboro, Willie Moon, Fairly and Willie Davis) were at a distinct disadvantage in the Coliseum."

Mrs. Gus Zuchlik, winner of the women's championship at Butte des Morts, was one of the recipients of awards at the club's annual golf dinner last weekend.

Italians Predict Easy Win Over U. S. Netters

ROME (AP) — A determined have a tough time winning a U.S. tennis team vowed today to match against the veteran Italian confident Italians who expect to beat the team of Nicola Pietrangeli, their Davis Cup squad to beat the Fausto Gardini and Orlando S. American easily in the interzone play.

Pair Missing

The Americans were not predicting victory for themselves, as Italian sports writers and tennis buffs were doing for Italy. But the Americans were not conceding either.

Many Italians were forecasting a 5-0 victory once play starts Friday. One was Marquis Ferrante Cavrini, a former non-playing captain of the Italian Davis Cup team and now an official of the Italian Tennis Federation.

Told of the marquis' prediction, Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md., said:

"If I were them, I would not bet on it."

David Freed, non-playing captain of the American team, admitted the Italians had the edge "on paper." But he said the encounter was wide open.

Other members of the American team—Don Douglas, of San Francisco, and Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., and Martin Ruesen of Evanston, Ill.—were equally confident in their ability to halt the favored Italians.

But Italian tennis fans thought the Americans, short on experience in Davis Cup play would

4 Packers Will Play Against Former Mates

Quinlan are pawing the dirt this week. They're thrilled with the prospect of playing the Browns. Three of them make up three-fourths of the Bays' defense line. Quinlan, Davis and Jordan. The fourth lineman is a home-grown Packer, Dave Hanner.

Two of them got their pro starts in Cleveland under Paul Brown — Davis and Jordan. Thus, the game is a homecoming for them. Besides, Cleveland is Davis' home. Quinlan started his pro career in Canada then went to the Browns. Carpenter started in Detroit, then was traded to the Browns.

Says Quinlan: "I've been looking ahead to this for three years. I've always tried to give 100 per cent in every game but you can't let I'll be giving that extra 10 per cent. The big factor for us will be containing Jimmy (Brown). Jimmy's one of the greatest that ever put on a uniform. I'll be playing against Shafrath (Dick) most of the time. He didn't play last Sunday and I guess they're going to let him out of service long enough to play. He's a big, strong kid."

"We have our day out for us, like any other Sunday. But I'm looking forward to this one awful lot."

Big Advance Sale

The Browns had an advance sale of 45,000 as of Monday for Sunday's game according to Marsh Samuel, the Browns' publicity chief.

"The attendance should go over 70,000 which would be our first crowd of that size this season," Samuel said.

The NFL will allow the Browns to play offensive tackle Shafrath against the Packers. Shafrath was called to active duty in the armed forces and he can play if he gets written consent of his commanding officer. Commissioner Pete Rozelle said the league had unanimously waived a rule hindering such an action for the remainder of the season. Mike Magac of San Francisco and Tom Franckhauser of Dallas are the only other players involved thus far.

Miller Ranks Sixth Among Nation's Passers

NEW YORK (AP) — Wisconsin quarterback Ron Miller, who has appeared to do little more than lumber his arm in three games this fall, today was listed sixth among the nation's top collegiate passers.

Weekly statistics released by the NCAA Service Bureau list Miller with 30 completions on 54 attempts for 345 yards. The

Waupaca Member of First High School Curling League

WAUPACA—The Mid-Wisconsin High School Curling League, believed to be the first high school curling league in the nation, was organized during a meeting at P. J. Jacobs High School, Stevens Point.

Charter member schools are Medford, Port Edwards, Stevens Point, Waupaca and Wausau. James Fricke, principal of Medford High School, was elected president; Harry Johnson, Wausau coach, vice president, and LeRoy Haberkorn, Waupaca coach, secretary-treasurer.

First Season

For the first season, each school will meet each other once with one rink. Whenever possible other matches may be played between the schools involved, but these matches will not count in the league standings. It is expected that in future years, maybe in the second season, two rinks will meet, both games to count in the standings.

The matches will be played on the local curling clubs' ice, the facilities being donated by the various clubs, all members of the Mid-West Curling Association.

Although high school curling rinks have met in invitational bonspiels and state playdowns, this is the first organized league known to exist in the United States.

The schedule:

Port Edwards at Wausau and Waupaca at Medford, Dec. 9; Port Edwards at Waupaca and Wausau at Stevens Point, Dec. 16; Stevens Point at Port Edwards and Medford at Wausau Jan. 6; Stevens Point at Medford and Wausau at Waupaca Jan. 20; Medford at Port Edwards and Waupaca at Stevens Point, Feb. 10.

Common Cold Man's Top Medical Mystery

Miscellany in Boyle's Mail Ranges From Tibetan Schools to Rattlesnake Calories

BY HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail.
The common cold, which costs industry $5 billion a year, is still one of mankind's greatest medical mysteries. It is responsible for 30 per cent of all our missed days from work.
Hippocrates, the father of medicine, thought the common cold started in the brain. Some scientists today deny there even is such a disease. Others hold it is caused by one of 50 different viruses.
But most doctors say: "There is no known cure for the common cold except rest and time. Most victims will agree."
Prosperity note: The more we earn, the more we owe America today owe more than $196 billion on the installment plan.

A Tibetan school child never gets spanked for sticking out his tongue at teacher. In Tibet that's the way you show respect for a superior. Try it with your boss—see what happens!
Highway sign "Danger To Touch These Wires Means Instantaneous Death." Anyone caught do- ing so will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law."
Literary note: More books have been written about the American ing President who composed his own epitaph omitted mention of his But none has volunteered to try, about his health, or a good person who worried much about his soul."

Machine age on the farm In 1860 it took the labor of eight farmers to feed and clothe 10 fam- ily—their own and two others. Today a mere 12 per cent of our working population (instead of 80 per cent) are engaged in agricul- ture. A dozen men now raise more than enough to provide for 100 people.
Your eyes are the busiest visible parts of your body. In a single year they move up, down, or side- ways some 36 million times. You blink your eyes about 84 mil- lion times. If you are normal, you blinked as you read that.
Hints for dieters: You can pep up your meals with a portion of rattlesnake steak, only 200 cal- ories. Five baked grasshoppers, 225 calories. Or a small serving of the hippopotamus milk, 80 calories.
All these foods are chockfull of vitamins, and none is habit-form- ing.
Historical oddity: The only U.S. President who composed his own epitaph omitted mention of his But none has volunteered to try, about his health, or a good person who worried much about his soul."

Electronic Brain
For Vacationers
HAMBURG, Germany—(AP)—An electronic brain which picks a vacation spot where the tourist will enjoy himself was on view at an office-machine exhibition in Hamburg.
The prospective vacationer who doesn't know where to go an- swers six questions for a clerk who punches them on a tape and feeds it to the robot: distance he wants to travel, size of the town, scenery, comforts required, sports interests and whether he wants quiet or lots of company.
The experimental machine, called the "Zuse 223," has more than 500 vacation spots on file.
It was John B. S. Haldane who observed, "I've never met a healthy person who worried much about his health, or a good person who worried much about his soul."

Research Team Has Clue to Mongolism

Irregularity in Chromosomes Count Possible Cause

BY ARTHUR J. SNIDER

CHICAGO — Mongolism, one of the commonest causes of mental retardation, has been commonly accepted as an oddity of birth, tied up perhaps with an older age of the mother, poor nutrition or factors unknown.

But a Chicago research team has disclosed a link in a developing chain of evidence that strongly suggests mongolism, while an accident, is a product of a hereditary abnormality. For the first time, they have found in both parents of two mongoloid children in a Chicago family an abnormal number of chromosomes in their body cells.

Finding Revealed
Hitherto, abnormal chromosomes have been found in only one parent.

Chromosomes are rod-like structures that contain the genes, the units of heredity.

The new finding was revealed at the convention here of the American Academy of Pediatrics by the Dr. Julian D. Levinson Research Foundation for mentally retarded children.

46 Chromosomes
The entire field of chromosome abnormalities has broken wide open in the last five years following the upset of an old textbook statement that body cells contain 48 chromosomes.

The correct complement is 46. Then, in 1959, it was discovered that mongolism was always associated with the presence of an extra chromosome in either the father or mother.

Later, it was found that congenital defects of other kinds often accompanied an abnormal chromosome count.

Chicago Family
In the Chicago family, the mother was found to have one less chromosome than normal (45) and the father, 47.

In seven pregnancies, there have been two mongoloid children, two miscarriages, one death from a congenital defect and two apparently normal children. No chromosome count has yet been taken on the latter two.

Dr. Sherman Kapitz of the Levinson Foundation said that as a result of the finding, chromosome counts will be run on other parents of mongoloid children.

It is estimated that one birth in a thousand is a mongoloid child. Of all mentally defective, one out of 10 is estimated to be a mongoloid.

Break Red China's Back To Win Cold War, Says Nationalist Official

Free Nations Must be United to Save Selves From Communism

BY JOHN B. McDERMOTT

TAIPEI, Formosa—Break the back of Red China and half the Free World's battle against communist aggression will be won.

That in essence is the way Chen Chang, Nationalist China's vice president and premier, summarized the East-West global battle during an interview here.

"The democratic nations should try to find the tenderest spot of the Communist bloc and overthrow it," he declared. "Today, Communist China is that spot."

Chen, who recently visited President Kennedy in Washington, said Free World nations are all ways on the defensive against Communist moves.

Take Offensive
His advice and urging is that they take the offensive—force a showdown instead of paying "fireman," rushing from one spot to another around the globe in an effort to put out the flames.

One way to do this, he said, would be to unite all the free nations into a combined force rather than to let each country stand

Wins Swimming Pool On Television, but Loses Relief Money

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — A woman who chose a $4,000 free swimming pool for her children in preference to certain welfare payments lost $129 a month in aid Tuesday.

The Ramsey County welfare board cut off aid to dependent children for Mrs. Elna Sawicki, a divorcee in her mid 30s who is mother of 10 children, nine of whom are at home. She still is eligible for about $250 in direct relief.

The board acted after learning that the installation of the pool in Mrs. Sawicki's back yard raised the equity in her property above the $7,500 limit allowed by state law for eligibility in the ADC Program.

Mrs. Sawicki won the pool on a television program "Queen for a Day" last summer. She has said she would be willing to go to work if necessary to insure that her children would have the pool.

She said she will appeal the county board's decision to the State Welfare Department.

population, then such a government cannot exist."

He feels that is the situation today on the mainland where Nationalist agents, plus refugees arriving in Hong Kong, report growing food shortages and discontent.

Chen said every loyal Chinese is counting on the nations of the free world to oppose Russia's bid to seat Red China in the United Nations.

"We all know that Red China does not meet the qualifications outlined in the U. N. charter," he said.

"They are merely tools of the people in the Kremlin. The admission of Red China would mean the destruction of the U. N., the loss of integrity, dignity and the chance of the fulfillment of the peace which the free nations seek."

Save on Taxes by Gift Merchandise

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Thanksgiving is less than 45 days away; Christmas will come a month later. The United Fund Drives are getting under way in towns and cities the nation over.

This is the pre-Thanksgiving period, when giving to charity by nearly all taxpaying businesses—from the corner store to the giant corporation—reaches an annual peak. This also is the period during which countless thousands of businessmen will forfeit spectacular savings because they simply do not know how to get the top tax benefits from their generosity.

Of course, you know that contributions to charity by your business are deductible whether in the form of cash or property. But an astounding percentage of you do not appreciate the extent to which you can save on taxes by giving to charity in the form of your business firm's merchandise.

Even fewer of you are aware of the tax benefits you can get from contributing old equipment, furniture, even machinery to a school, church or other charity.

Favorable Rates Made

It was in 1960 that the treasury officially approved exceedingly favorable rules under which businessmen can save on taxes by giving their own merchandise to charities. Here's the tale.

If you're in business selling some type of goods, you buy at one price, sell at a marked-up price and the difference is your profit.

When you give goods to a charity, you pay no tax on the difference between your cost and sales price—broadly speaking, your potential profit. But when you give, you can claim a tax deduction for your contribution based on the sales price of these goods, not the lower cost to you of these goods.

This is a two-way tax break on your contribution which can add up to immense savings. You do not report as taxable income the difference between the cost and sales price; you do get a deduction on your income tax for the full sales price.

For instance, let's say that you contributed $100 in the name of your own profit-making corporation to local charities. The out-of-pocket cost to your corporation was $40—for, if you hadn't given the cash, the other $60 would have gone to the treasury to pay the 52 per cent tax owed by your corporation.

Now assume that this October you give merchandise which cost you $60 and sells for $100. Assume too that the charities to which you give the merchandise can sell the stuff for $100 as easily as you could so they're just as satisfied.

What is your tax setup under these circumstances? This:

You have saved the same $60 in taxes that you would have saved if you had made the contribution in cash. But since the $100 of goods cost you only $60, your out-of-pocket cost is only $40 (the $60 cost minus the $20 tax savings.) You will contribute $100 at a net cost of $40 against your contribution last year of $100 at a net cost of $48.

Can Expand Giving

For many years, informed taxpayers have been aware of the advantages of contributing to charity in the form of stocks or bonds which have risen in value, instead of cash—because they get a deduction for the full value of what they contribute and simultaneously don't have to pay taxes on the profits. You can get a similar tax break if your business can make contributions in the form of goods.

So make your contributions, if feasible, in the form of your own merchandise.

Claim as a charitable deduction on your return the normal selling price of the merchandise, not its cost price to you.

Get your two-way tax break and use the savings to expand your giving to worthy charities.

NEXT: A sixth and last report on how you can save on taxes now with more hints on charities, shifting income and expenses.

Odds Favor McCormack to Succeed 'Sam'

Disagreement With Kennedy May Hurt Lawmaker's Chances

BY JAMES MCCARTNEY

Chicago Daily News Service

WASHINGTON — The real question in picking a new speaker for the House to replace the dying Sam Rayburn is why there should be any question at all.

Why hasn't John W. McCormack (D-Mass.), Rayburn's right-hand man for 21 years, got it sewed up?

The odds now are all in favor of McCormack to succeed Rayburn in the top House spot, probably the second most powerful position in the government.

Has Seniority

McCormack has seniority, so sacred in the House, having served since 1928; he has been temporary speaker in Rayburn's absence, another vital precedent, and he has served as majority leader or minority whip since most congressmen can remember.

So why should there be any question?

Students of the House list three principal reasons.

The first usually mentioned is McCormack's known disagreement with President Kennedy in local Massachusetts politics.

The story here goes back to 1956 when President Kennedy, then a senator, battled with McCormack over control of the Massachusetts Democratic State committee.

McCormack opposed the nomination of Adlai Stevenson for president, while Kennedy was an open Stevenson partisan — perhaps, even then, flirting with dreams of the vice presidential nomination.

Kennedy forces won that battle, but scars were slow to heal.

Bone of Contention

A possible bone of contention looms in the future is the senate seat from Massachusetts now held by Benjamin A. Smith II (D-Mass.), who was appointed late last year.

An election for the seat will be held next year and the president's brother, Edward Kennedy, has indicated that he may be interested.

But so is Edward McCormack, now the attorney general of Massachusetts, and a nephew of John McCormack.

Another factor frequently mentioned in discussing John McCormack's chances for the speakership is his break with the administration on the aid-to-education bill during the recently completed congressional session.

McCormack was generally considered to be the field marshal of the opposition forces in fighting the school bill. He felt that parochial schools were entitled to as much as public schools.

A third factor is McCormack's religion.

3 Top Catholics

McCormack is a Catholic representing a strongly Catholic district.

By itself, this might have little significance, but the President is also a Catholic and so is the majority leader of the senate, Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.).

Southern Democrats, in particular, are said to be somewhat leery of having Catholics in those three top positions in the government.

The critical question is whether President Kennedy will overlook all of these factors and decide to go with McCormack.

If he doesn't, the fur will begin to fly.

55 Commissioned In Guard Under Accelerated Plan

MADISON (AP)—A total of 55 Wisconsin 32nd Division National Guardsmen graduated from the Guard's military academy in Madison Tuesday, having packed into a two-week period a work load that normally requires months.

The graduates, recipients of commissions, are members of the unit called up for federal service. Members of the class had been working earlier on a voluntary, part time basis for commission as 2nd lieutenants.

A stepped-up program to ready the men for commissions was instituted shortly after word came that the division would report for duty at Ft. Lewis, Wash. Oct. 29.

May Gen H. A. Smith of Oshkosh, commanding general of the Division, called the group a vanguard in "showing the Communists America means business."

"We must convince the Communists we have a formidable fighting force, the only thing Communists recognize," he added.

MOOD FOR AUTUMN

BY JEAN OTTO

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The languorous humid summer haze is vanquished now in fall's pungent blaze — Is lost in the color and acrid sweet air Of sharp cool nights and days that are fair. The frost and the sun tell the weather's turn And I live once again in autumn's bright burn.

It's good to awaken, I've slept too long, Dulled and diminished by summer's song. But summer is gone and its drowsy beat Has become staccato, quick and neat; I must fill myself full of autumn's scent And its sound and its fury and peace. And be spent.

Pat DeValk Kimberly Queen For Homecoming

KIMBERLY — Pat DeValk, a senior at Kimberly High School, was elected Homecoming queen in a vote by football players Monday.

Each member of the grid squad was permitted to submit a name for consideration as royalty for Friday's festivities. Members of the court will be Barbara Rooy, akkers, freshman; Carla Evers, sophomore; Bonnie Wallace, junior, and Betty Wolfinger, senior.

The girls will ride in special cars for Friday's parade and spark and reign over the dance following homecoming.

Three Youngsters Find Deadly Toy

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Death waited in the next rattle of a deadly toy found by three youngsters.

The toy was a metal can containing a half-pound block of TNT and two blasting caps—enough to destroy an automobile.

Kim Poucher, 5, and her brothers, David, 3, and Dana, 2, found the explosive in an uncle's garage. Their mother, Mrs. John Poucher, discovered the lethal plaything and called police.

"All it needed was one tiny car for Friday's parade and spark and reign over the dance following homecoming," said detective Sgt. G. M. Brown.

'Old Line' Purchased by Bank Group

Control of Insurance Company Subject Of Proxy Battle

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Control of the Old Line Life Insurance Co., subject of a bitter proxy fight two years ago, has been purchased by an investors' group headed by J.C. Bradford & Co., investment bankers of Nashville, Tenn.

The change of control was announced Tuesday by Forrest D. Guynn, Old Line president, who said the change would mean a "program of vigorous expansion." The firm writes all forms of life and accident-sickness insurance and annuities and is licensed in 13 states.

Top Firm

Old Line ranks among the top five firms in Wisconsin in terms of insurance in force, one source estimated, and is about 170th in the same scale among the 1,300 life companies in the nation.

The new group is not connected with the control fight from $70 early in August to $110 of two years ago which led to the Tuesday.

Kiel Fire Chief to Address Twin City Safety Council

MENASHA—Fire Chief Herman Lettenberger of Kiel will be the speaker at the current season's second meeting of the Twin City Safety Council at 6:30 p.m. Oct. 18 in Germania Hall.

Lettenberger will speak on fire prevention, marking the local observance of National Fire Prevention week. He will discuss gasoline and electrical equipment fires and dust hazards. A 15-minute film, "Fire in the Plant," also will be shown.

Reservations must be made with Dan Danielson, Neenah vocational school director and safety council secretary. About 175 are expected at the dinner.

unseating of the management team headed by Mearl F. Ryan, then president. Guynn said the group has purchased 40,000 shares of the firm's 100,000 shares of insurance in force. The purchase apparently was a major factor in the spectacular rise in the price of the stock on the over the counter market. The bid price jumped to $110 early in August to $70 of two years ago which led to the Tuesday.

Armenians Wangle Late Russian Aid

Traditionally Submissive, but Have Hard Boiled Economic Ideas

Chicago Daily News Foreign Service
YERIVAN, Armenia, U.S.S.R. —At the foot of Mt. Ararat's eternal snows, next to their ancient enemies the Turks, the wandering

Armenians have found a Communist home. A million and a half Armenians, their natural talents sharpened by living in the smallest of the 15 Soviet Republics, keep Soviet Armenia a storehouse of national traditions dutifully submissive to an alien, rigid socialist economy.

The Armenians claim to have wangled more aid out of Moscow than the 27,000,000 Turks out of Washington.

The Armenian Caucasus is rocky and bitter. The mountains are scraped bald by the axes of 5,000 years of warfare. But the air at the 3,000 foot altitude is dry, brisk and stimulating.

Only about 56,000 Russians have settled among the 1,760,000 Armenians. Not even a Russian Communist wants to compete in socialist labor with an Armenian. The traditional Armenian talent—selling less for more—has only limited scope in a new industrial economy run by 80,000 members of the Communist party. The Communists even have a 4-to-1 monopoly of seats in the taken Parliament of the Republic.

Metals Industry
But Moscow directly controls only that 3 per cent of the Republic's economy in the metals industry. The rest, employing a mere 140,000 workers—low by Soviet standards—is controlled by Armenians.

Yet the Soviets have invested about $1,200,000,000 in Armenia in the postwar years. It is just possible that the Armenians are exploiting the Russians, instead of the reverse.

Armenia's development was delayed, apparently, not by lack of talent, but by the caution of their greatest native son in the Kremlin, Anastas Mikoyan, in getting them help. Mikoyan is an ex-theology student, supple friend of Lenin, Stalin and Nikita

Khrushchev. But he is not im-Stalin's native Georgia, Armenia's Caucasus neighbor. During Stalin's 20 years as his aid was funneled at first into boss, Mikoyan was careful that Armenia's part barrel remained tiny next to Georgia's. He survived.

During this delayed getaway under Stalin, some 90,000 sentimental or class-conscious Armenians from the United States and the Middle East were persuaded to "return" to a "home-land" few had ever known. (Yerivan the capital had barely 30,000 people, now has 800,000.)

At first many immigrants were disillusioned, despite generous government family grants. But now the government is destroying the worst slums, building splendid broad highways, and has finally given the capital focus in Lenin square. The Armenians are doing better now than the Georgians have lost power.

About ten low cost feeder airlines keep small towns in touch with Yerivan. Yerivan is only an hour's taxi ride from the tightly closed Turkish border, the river Araxus. From the 17,000 foot heights of Turkish Ararat, NATO's radar sweeps Armenia.

American-Armenians, who visit at about 800 a year, are generally favorably impressed. They are jokingly called "brothers" because they use that term in preference to the Communist "comrade" in addressing their hosts.

Dangerous Act
Armenia's Communist party has extricated itself from a dangerous disagreement with Khrushchev. Its former Secretary, G. A. Arutian, imprudently associated himself with a land expert, M. D. Bagirov, in attacking a favorite Khrushchev plan resettling collective farmers away from their land in "agrocities."

Arutian severely struck at Khrushchev's centralization. He was aware that half the Armenians still live on farms, and most of them in the 649 semi-independent collectives rather than in the 115 state farms. He and Bagirov were both close to Stalin's longtime Minister of Internal Security, Lavrenti Beria, a Georgian rival of Khrushchev, who successfully blocked Khrushchev's plan.

When Communist party and Red army joined forces to kill Beria, Bagirov was also arrested and shot. But Arutian, whose party apparatus in Armenia was strong, was spared. Barred from Yerivan, he retired to Georgia. Having got little money out of the Georgian gang, Armenia escaped a severe purge.

Arutian's successor, Souren Tomassian, lasted only two years before being kicked upstairs to be minister to Communist North Vietnam.

The party, now directed by bald, heavyset Jacob Zarubian, will send 16 deputies to the 22nd Party Congress in Moscow Oct. 17.

The Prime Minister, Anton

Kechinian, is unusual in the Soviet structure as obedient civil servant of the all-powerful party Secretary and Prime Minister.

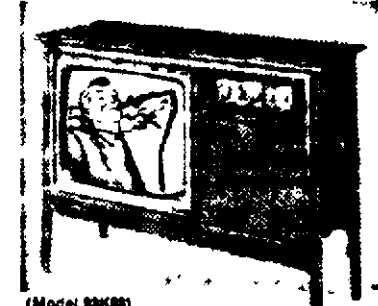

Each receive salaries not disclosed publicly but estimated in the neighborhood of $380 monthly, plus allowances.

Two Fill Positions on Guidance Center Board

Two changes were made Tuesday in the board of directors of the Outagamie County Community Guidance Center.

Mrs. Douglas Knight was elected treasurer of the board, to fill the unexpired term of David Bias, who moved to Washington, D. C. Gus A. Zuehlke was named to the board to take Bias' place. The terms will expire in March.

Illegal Exporting To Cuba Continues

More Customs Agents Added to Cut Flow of Embargoed Goods

BY ROBERT S. BOYD
Chicago Daily News Service

WASHINGTON — The government is spending more than $1,000 a day seven days a week, trying to stop the flow of illegal exports to Cuba.

Fifty-eight customs agents, investigators, inspectors and clerks have been added to the federal payroll since trade with Cuba was cut off last Oct. 19.

By next June, their operations will have cost U.S. taxpayers more than $500,000.

And still, American businessmen — sometimes unscrupulous sometimes just unwary — are providing Fidel Castro with desperately needed spare parts, machines, tires and other embargoed goods.

Stop A Fraction

"We can stop only a fraction of the illegal exports," says John P. Hebrew, chief export control investigator for the Department of Commerce.

"We think we are fairly effective, but we just never know how much we miss," he said. "There are so many holes through which they can pump their stuff."

Commerce department investigators in cooperation with customs agents and the FBI have seized an estimated $300,000 worth of American-made goods illegally bound for Cuba.

Another $250,000 worth of supplies have been prevented from going by persuading the exporters to cancel the deals, Hebrew said.

Shipments halted so far include auto and airplane parts, navigation equipment, tires, pumps, machinery, replacement parts, tank engines, electronic equipment and insecticides.

Inflated Prices

Hebrew said he "couldn't hazard a guess" as to the total value of embargoed U.S. goods which have reached Cuba.

He said one gauge of the effectiveness of the embargo is the inflated price Cubans are paying for the articles they do get.

"Sometimes they pay a premium three or four times the real value of the item," he said. "After a water pump was blown up, they were buying $30 pump parts in Mexico for as much as $100."

"I take considerable comfort in that," he added grimly. "But the United States is also paying a price."

39 Agents Added

Congress had to vote $210,000 to the commerce department and $375,000 to the customs bureau to cope with the Cuban trade problem.

Hebrew's export control investigators are spending "30 to 40 per cent of their time" on Cuban matters.

The customs bureau has added 39 agents to cope with the situation. Most of them are assigned to Florida, but others are in New York, New Orleans, the Houston Galveston area and along the Mexican border.

Mexico Ideal

"Mexico is ideally suited for transshipments," Hebrew noted. "Spot checks of shipping licenses

Nazis 'Antithetical To U. S. Traditions'

Hate Group Pricks Justice Department But Not Yet on U. S. Subversive List

BY JAMES MCCARTNEY
Chicago Daily News Service

WASHINGTON — The pro-Hitler, hate-peddling American Nazi Party has become a thorn in the side of the Justice Department. The department officially regards the hate group and its "repugnant" and "representing the very antithesis of American traditions."

But it has not added the Nazis to its official list of "subversive" organizations.

In fact, it feels that to do so would necessitate prolonged public hearings that would give George Lincoln Rockwell, the party's "Fuehrer," millions of dollars worth of free publicity.

What it adds up to is that the department is caught with a list that isn't even close to being up and customs declarations have been stepped up.

Air passengers' baggage is being examined more carefully, and the crew's personal effects searched. Mail pouches are also checked.

The latest electronic surveillance devices are being used to screen baggage at Miami, New York, and New Orleans airports.

One of the big problems, Hebrew said, was a flood of small items being taken out illegally by aircraft crews.

Government Action

Crew members on some of the smaller foreign airlines would carry a suitcase of spare parts on to a plane, he said. Passengers were sometimes involved, too.

Things go so bad, Hebrew said that the government threatened to take action against the airlines unless they cracked down on their employees.

The goods often went first to Nassau or another Caribbean island, and then were re-shipped to Cuba. Payment was made with Cuban funds deposited in Canadian banks in Nassau, Hebrew said.

Trade Syndicates

The government currently is investigating three or four trade syndicates which reportedly have set up secret pipelines to funnel goods to Castro.

A recent case was the seizure in Miami of a million pounds of insecticide ordered by Cuba through a fake Mexican company. "In most cases, I don't believe the American exporter knows the ultimate destination of his goods," Hebrew said.

"The average businessman doesn't want any part of a deal like that. We generally get excellent cooperation when we explain to them what's going on."

However, Hebrew said, there are cases in which the American exporter knows the shipment will wind up in Cuba, and sometimes is even taking an active part in helping it get there.

Board Approves Major Purchases, Discusses Others

KAUKAUNA — Members of the board of education approved several major purchases Tuesday evening and authorized the superintendent to investigate the possibility of adding other items.

Purchases approved include 124 study hall desks, eight gym mats, two tables, a ditto machine, three adding machines, a tape recorder and additional sound equipment for the auditorium. The superintendent is to investigate the purchase of several pieces of shop machinery for use by custodians.

Board members approved a plan for the purchase of commercial laundry equipment with Rowland Todd United Community which to wash school towels and other items, rather than enter into agreement with a firm supplying clean towel service.

Five local firms were awarded fuel oil bids when all submitted the same cost estimate of 10.84 cents per gallon. The board was informed of a plan by the Kaukauna Athletic Club to increase its scholarship from $200 to $250 per year in line with increased tuition costs.

13 Killed in Crash

NEOSIA, Cape Air — A Bonanza twin-engine plane crashed at El Alamo, Libya Tuesday night, killing 13 of the 46 aboard, said a spokesman for the U.S. State Department. The plane was carrying 46 passengers and a pilot. The crash occurred about 10 miles from the town of Neosia, Libya. The plane was carrying 46 passengers and a pilot. The crash occurred about 10 miles from the town of Neosia, Libya.

to-date—and has no disposition to want to update it.

Yet the list is very much alive. It is still in official use as a screening mechanism in hiring Federal Government employees and also is in wide use by private and state groups as well as the armed forces to weed out potential subversives.

One Justice Department official estimated that 90 per cent of some 270 organizations listed are no longer in existence.

No names of organizations have been added or subtracted for six years.

The same official estimated that far more "subversive" groups are not on the list today than are. He guessed that about 200 "Communist front" groups, most of them small and local in character, are in business but not listed.

Different Problems

The department has found that maintenance of the list presents different problems when considering right wing organizations than with left.

But it is making no effort to keep the list up to date on either political wing.

It has had the Rockwell group under investigation for more than 16 months, but officials have concluded that it would be a mistake to try to list it.

It is getting about 50 to 75 letters a month from persons asking why and is replying with a letter that reads in part:

Viewed With Repugnance

"The Department of Justice views George Lincoln Rockwell and the American Nazi party with repugnance, representing the very antithesis of American traditions and American concepts of government."

"It is our earnest desire to take such action as may be most effective in combating these activities consonant with the facts and applicable law."

The letter goes on to say that the name of the group, the American Nazi party, seems to be adequate identification and that listing it as subversive wouldn't help to curtail its activities.

Local Crackdowns

The best way to deal with Rockwell, it suggests, is through local law enforcement crackdowns.

Several of Rockwell's troops are already in trouble with local officials—one of them accused of statutory rape involving a 14-year-old girl.

Rockwell operates from headquarters in nearby Arlington, Va. Justice Department officials doubt that they would have any trouble pinning a subversive label on the Nazis if they wanted to try.

They are being just as chary in dealing with left wing groups. They mention three factors to explaining why their list is not kept up to date.

They are 1. Long and frequent expensive litigation is involved. 2. They would expose their informants during hearings. 3. Many of the organizations are so small that they are hardly worth the effort.

Troops May be Sent To Southeast Asia

Consideration of Move by President Causes No Alarm in Washington

WASHINGTON — Maybe it is a sign that the U.S. has attained a remarkable maturity. Maybe it just means that this city, which automatically gives the alarm to the country, has already supplied so deep on crises that one more crisis hardly seems worth banging the drum about.

In any case, it is an extraordinary, puzzling and noteworthy fact that neither the country nor the Capital seems to be particularly excited because the President is seriously considering sending combat units of the U.S. Army and Marines to Southeast Asia.

It has been on the public record for at least ten days that the dispatch of combat units to South Vietnam was under grave and urgent consideration. When first published in this space on Monday, Oct. 2, the report was confirmed by the State Department on Tuesday, Oct. 3. Since then, it has also been learned that additional combat units may be sent to Thailand.

During the present week, almost certainly, the enormously grave final decision will be taken. The President will send, or refrain from sending American fighting men into reserve positions in the bitter Southeast Asian guerrilla war with the Communists. With such a decision known to be pending, you might suppose that everyone would be on tenterhooks. Instead, everyone has seemed to be on tranquilizers. The extreme oddity of this lack of response to the deepening Southeast Asia crisis does not, unfortunately, make the situation in Vietnam and Laos a particle less critical. As of the moment, the odds are at least even that the decision about sending U.S. troops to the area will be affirmative.

The immediate aim is to contain the Communists, Cambodia will surely respond to the deepening ly be swallowed too, and in very Southeast Asia crisis does not, unfortunately, make the situation in Vietnam and Laos a particle less critical. As of the moment, the odds are at least even that the decision about sending U.S. troops to the area will be affirmative.

To Your Good Health Nervous Stomach May be Caused by School Worries

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Only that her stomach growls. "Dear Dr. Molner I have a teenage daughter who gets very nervous about her school work. Even though she eats a good breakfast, she gets worried in school and her stomach starts growling from her nervousness. This worries her still more and she dreads going each morning for fear other students will hear her stomach growl."

Do you have a solution that might help ease this tension?—D. E. S. From the physical standpoint, No. From the emotional standpoint, yes.

This isn't a question of what makes her stomach growl, but of what makes her "very nervous about her school work." Is she a good, fair or poor student? If she is a poor student and worried about passing then maybe she needs some help. An understanding teacher may be able to give all of the advice and aid that are necessary. Teachers are usually more than willing to go out of their way to help a student who is worried about passing, if not very anxious to help the sort of student who doesn't care. This girl, obviously cares. And worries.

Secondary Importance Or am I on the wrong track? Is she a pretty good student who worries because she isn't an all A student? What is she worrying about? Those are the important questions. It is of secondary importance

Harrison Part of Hilbert District

County Committee Signed Death Warrant for Stockbridge High

HILBERT — The Calumet County school committee, following a public hearing in the high school here Wednesday, approved attaching the southern region of the Harrison School District to the Joint Hilbert High School District.

The move could have serious effects on the fate of Stockbridge High School, Harry Ricker, rural Stockbridge and a school committee member said. "If this petition is approved tonight, you'll write the death warrant for Stockbridge High School," he said.

By attaching the area to Hilbert the hoped for expansion of the ject of an informal meeting at small Stockbridge district was Stockbridge Tuesday night. Gen-cut significantly. "We can't move erally, it would involve joining of a foot," Ricker said.

The area attached to Hilbert of elementary and junior high lies directly north of the Stock-schools at Hilbert, Sherwood and bridge District. It is bordered on Stockbridge. A centrally located the west by Lake Winnebago and senior high school would then be High Cliff State Park property. added to the system.

It runs north to Sherwood with Ricker admitted that consolida-tion would be a form of com-promise. He said, "I'm willing to sacrifice senior high school at ent west boundaries of the Hilbert district.

Thus, expansion of Stockbridge to the north was blocked by the committee's action. Ricker said when Stockbridge school adminis-trators planned a Lakeshore Dis-trict, they learned that Brother-town, a large unattached area south of Stockbridge, wasn't in-terested in joining Stockbridge. Brothertown favored attaching to Chilton or New Holstein.

With almost no hope for major expansion and enrollment growth, Ricker implied that the small Stockbridge High School would eventually be closed. There are about 90 students this year.

Delay Asked

Ricker, although admitting he favored Stockbridge, said he was not directly opposed to the at-tachment being dealt with at the meeting, but he hoped for a de-lay of final action. Several mem-bers of the audience who recent-ly began planning for a consoli-dated Hilbert - Stockbridge - Har-ber district, most notably Mrs. Norman Kiefer, also asked for a posed today to United Auto Work-ers locals at eight plants that the union's present labor contract be "continued for one year" without change.

Major spokesman for those fa-voring the attachment was Wil-mer Schultz, a member of the unchanged, Industrial Relations Hagrison School Board. Schultz manager Harry F. Twomey Jr. said 82 of the 105 electors resid-ing in the district signed the peti-tion favoring attachment to Hil-ber. He pointed out that Hilbert High School served the area on a tuition basis as long as he could remember.

Statistics showed that only one high school student residing in the area attached to Hilbert is attend-ing Stockbridge High School. An-other attended a parochial high school and all others were stu-dents at Hilbert.

Eleven grade school children will be involved. Schultz said the Harrison School is overcrowded. ADD 2 000Ttworl d. v-v Twomey added today that manu-facturing operations were "below normal levels," and added that sales volume is unusually low while costs have remained high. Contracts covering 10,000 pro-duction workers represented by the CAW expire Nov. 1 at the home works and at La Crosse, Wis., La Porte and Terre Haute, Ind., Cedar Rapids, Ia.; Gadsden, Ala.; Pittsburgh, Pa.; and Spring-field, Ill. A.C. has eight other do-mestic plants where the CAW is not the bargaining agent.

In all, four persons spoke in fa-vor of the attachment and three, including Ricker, asked for de-lays. No one expressed outright opposition. The meeting was at-tended by some 60 persons.

Opinion Survey

The school committee ruled that its decision Wednesday need not interfere with the work toward a consolidated district. The area at-tached to Hilbert would be in-cluded if consolidation was achieved.

Plans for a public opinion sur-vey of the Hilbert, Stockbridge and Harrison School Districts are being made. It was announced. The school committee urged sup-porters of consolidation to make the survey.

The consolidation Ricker and Mrs. Kiefer proposed was the sub-

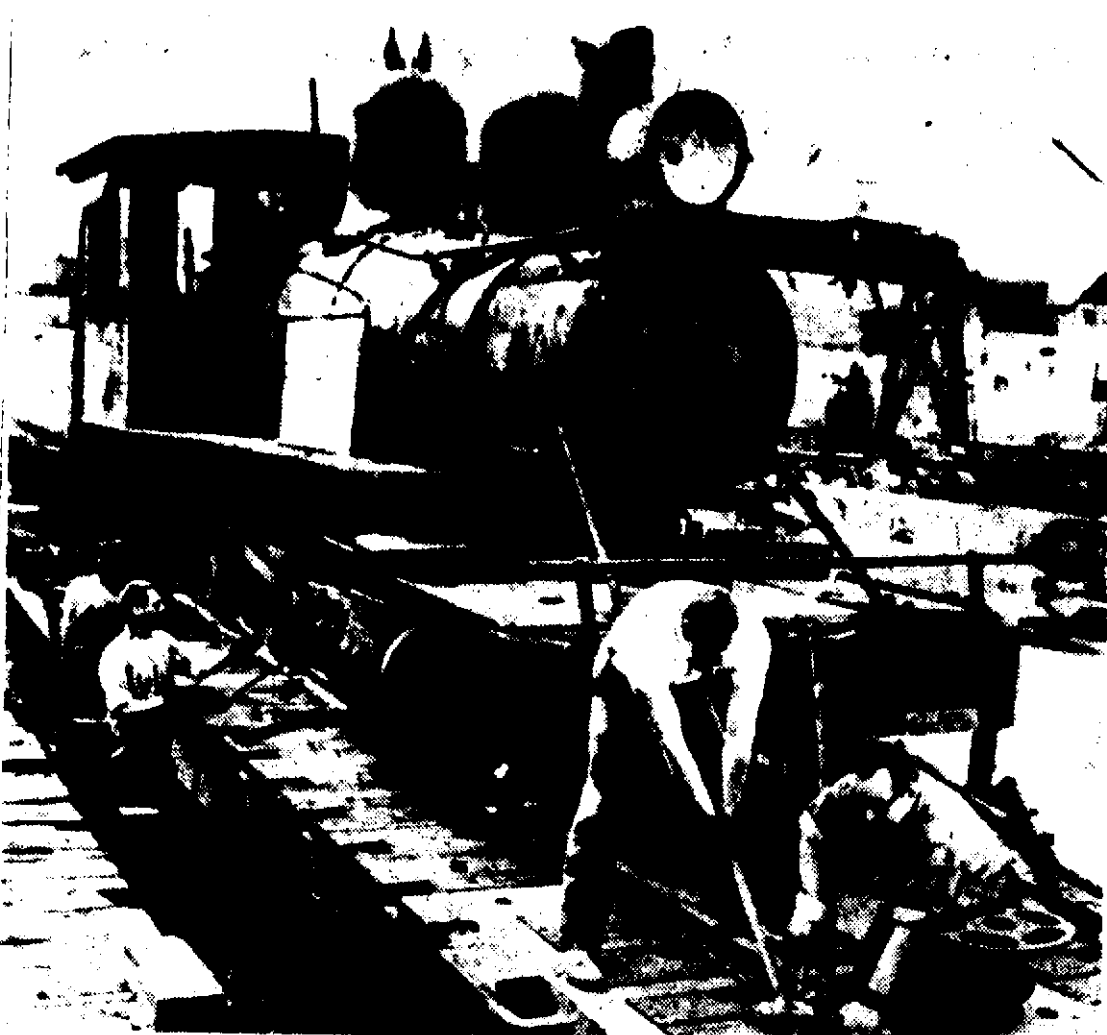

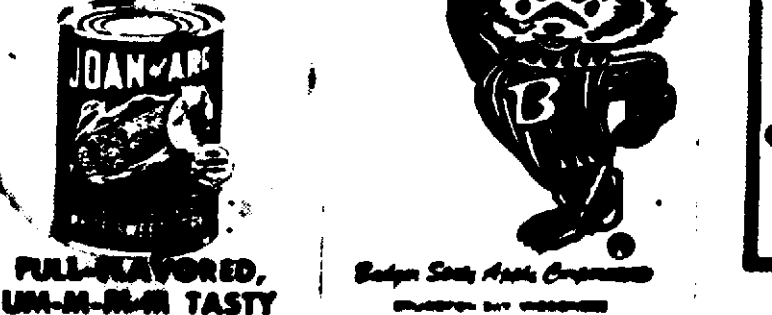

Argument Over Dog Leads to Blows

An Appleton woman told police Wednesday night that she received nose and cheek injuries when a neighbor woman punched her in the nose after an argument over a stray dog.

The woman said the neighbor punched her through a screen door. Police reported an eight by 14 inch hole in the screen.

The argument started, the woman said, when her neighbor—who lives in the same building—re-manded her for scolding her child ren. The complainant said her neighbor's children had brought home a stray dog and her daugh-ter was afraid of it.

Civil Defense Plans New State Bureau

System of Economic Stabilization for Emergencies Planned

Food Rationing

With provision for the rationing of food and essential supplies, the civil defense organization can be assured of law-abiding behavior in the event of a military emergency, the state office said. The bulletin said the governor plan will be "one of the areas of special emphasis during the next six to 12 months."

Donald V. Jensen, head of the supply and economic stabilization service of the defense bureau, has carried on extensive planning for the creation of such an organization, it was said.

The bureau recalled that after World War II began, the establishment of a rationing system took five months, in spite of a control organization then known as OPA which had about 50 full-time officials in the state, and drew on 4,000 volunteers besides.

The development of will set the plan in motion soon by appointing a state economic stabilization director, probably zation for the rationing of food from a panel submitted to him by and other consumer goods that bankers and other expert groups can be mobilized in an emergency. That will be followed by the appointment of county co-directors 14-year-old daughter but the judge for stabilization, in conjunction office of civil defense.

Madison—A campaign stretch-village health officer has ended ing over half a dozen years to get rid of the old-fashioned town and village health officer has ended with his signature lately, and suggested that the lawmakers when they reconvene at the end of the month may extend the operative scope of the act.

The resistance of rural elections, however, makes such legislative action unlikely. The Wisconsin Towns Association recently reaffirmed its opposition to it such terms as to make it any mandatory interference with the traditional prerogatives of town governments in the health field.

The law is optional in its terms, meaning that county boards are not required to act unless they choose to do so.

Moreover, the counties have only two months in which to make their decisions, under the express terms of the act reluctantly enacted by the legislature in its session earlier this year.

Gov. Nelson called attention to the shortcomings in the legislation when he made it effective with his signature lately, and suggested that the lawmakers when they reconvene at the end of the month may extend the operative scope of the act.

Enrollment at Wisconsin U Up 8.5 Per Cent

MADISON (AP)—University of Wisconsin total enrollment has gone up 8.5 per cent over the record of a year ago. Registrar Paul Trump reported Wednesday. The figure for the Madison campus, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee and eight center campuses hit 31,377, a boost of 2,458 compared to a year ago.

Trump's study showed: Madison enrollment exceeded the 30,000 mark for the first time. The figure is 31,118.

UW-M enrollment jumped to 8,686, an increase of more than 9 per cent over the 7,942 students a year ago.

Center enrollments increased by nearly 30 per cent, hitting 2,394 compared to 2,166 a year ago.

Centers with biggest increases included Fox Valley in Menasha, 47.9 per cent; Green Bay, 51.7 per cent and Marinette, 48.8 per cent.

Neenah-Oshkosh Route 41 Lanes Nearing Completion

BY JACK GLASNER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The dangerous single-lane section of U. S. 41 between Neenah and Oshkosh will become a four-lane superhighway sometime between Wednesday and Saturday next week.

The new double lanes will be opened with no fanfare upon the completion of blacktopping intersections, LeRoy Empey, Green Bay Highway District engineer, said today.

The highway—a unique feat of engineering — will form the next to the last link of four-lane paving on 41 between Milwaukee and the Fox Cities. The remaining section between Oshkosh and Fond du Lac is awaiting paving bids, with the work to be done next year.

The Fond du Lac-Oshkosh section has been dubbed "suicide lane," but the Neenah - Oshkosh section has had its fatal crashes, too.

The Neenah - Oshkosh section opening next week is literally a bridge of concrete laid upon the ground. It is one of the few highways in the United States which is a continuous reinforcing type of construction. Steel rods run continuously from U.S. 45-41 to a railroad crossing near the Bergstrom Paper Co. mill, a distance of some four miles. Then a slab of regular concrete carries the new double lane north to a creek and the bridge over it. Then, the continuous reinforcing takes over again to the junction of the new double lane with the Neenah bypass.

Net effect of the engineering feat is no thump-thump over tar joints. The only joint in the sections is a centerline.

However pleasant this may be to drivers, the state highway commission is far more excited about the engineering possibilities. Maintenance of the new road will be considerably less than on present types of paving — no joints they now will have to tar and replace, for instance.

Of course, highway engineers two weekly drills a month. They are the first to admit they don't know whether the idea will work over the next 10 years or so. But the construction is one of the new ideas in road building to come along in quite a while.

There is another new idea along 41 in the bridge which will carry the present highway over the new dual road just north of U.S. 10-41 west of Appleton. That bridge rests on single center pillars and may represent the look of future overpasses in road construction.

Cost was the factor in this experiment, and must be compared to the standard two-pillar bridge they will be called anytime and will be expected to report for an eight-hour shift.

The total mileage to be opened next week is 5.6. Paving of the 12-mile relocation west and north of Appleton is set for next year, with bids to be let during the first of this year. The total job probably will be under contract by February, the highway commission has indicated.

An Oshkosh construction firm has been given a contract to build structures at the Corium underpass and over a branch of the Fond du Lac River for the second dual lane of 41 along "suicide lane."

The contract was awarded to the Fluor Brothers Construction Co. by the Wisconsin Highway Commission, and calls for $199,774 in construction.

The structures will carry Soo Line railroad tracks over the new portion of the highway, and will replace a single lane bridge over the east branch of the river. A structure for the railroad spans one lane of the highway.

Grading of the second lane from the cloverleaf intersection of 41 and State 175 to a point 700 feet L. Boots, Alphonse R. Frassetto, south of U.S. 151 could get under way sooner than anticipated if LeBlanc, William Patrick, Gorrweather conditions permit. Fond du Lac County Road Commissioner E. Plantikow, David Porter, du Lac County Road Commissioner Albert P. Ruys, Kenneth A. Schness, Jerome J. Seaver, Wilbert A. Strick, Donald J. Vandermey, Emmett Vanden Hoogen, point south of 151 and on 6.196 Herman Van Grinsven, and Gordon F. Zillges.

Harry Pierce, mill manager, County line are about finished was master of ceremonies, and with actual grading and sub-basement. A. G. Briggs, personnel superintendent, presented the new membership list to Kellett. The Kimberly mill has been completed in Winnebago club now has a membership of County and the stretch now awaits concrete surfacing.

Oneidas Receive Pay 'Calico Treaty' Checks To Go to Individuals

Post-Crescent News Service

ONEIDA — The Federal government plans to pay $19,800 in accumulated "Calico Treaty" payments to members of the Oneida Indian tribe next fall. The individual checks for an estimated 4,000 Oneidas on the tribal roll will amount to about $5.

The payment represents 11 years of the government's obligations to the Oneidas under terms of a treaty signed in 1794 between the infant United States government and the Oneida Indian nation. The Treaty of Peace and friendship recognized aid and assistance given by Oneidas in scouting for the Continental Army during the Revolutionary War, and also in obtaining horses and supplies for Gen. George Washington's troops.

Under terms of the treaty signed at Konondaugua, N.Y., Nov. 11, 1794, a sum of $1,800 "shall be expended yearly forever in purchasing clothing, domestic animals, implements of husbandry and other utensils suited to their circumstances." The treaty commended the Oneidas "for losses and services in the late war."

For many years, the Oneidas were paid off annually in bolts of colorful calico cloth. Payments, later in cash, were continued after about 2,000 of the New York Oneidas moved to the Green Bay area in the 1830s.

The Bureau of Indian Affairs 10 years ago tried to make a final settlement, but the Oneidas, in a regular council meeting here, refused to accept a settlement.

At the time, the government announced the bookkeeping and clerical costs of mailing out 50-cent checks each year to each Oneida was a cumbersome task. The government stopped the check mailing plan and each year set aside $1,800 in a non-interest bearing U.S. Treasury account.

At a tribal council meeting last July, the Oneidas voted to accept the accumulated annuity money — then totaling $18,000 — and invest it as a lump sum in interest-bearing U.S. government notes.

This plan, however, has been rejected. E. J. Riley, Ashland, superintendent of the Great Lakes Indian Agency, reported to members of the tribe's Executive Committee last week. A legal opinion from Washington, D.C. says the annuity must be paid to individual Oneidas, he said, and cannot be turned over to the tribe.

However, Riley said, he has rejected E. J. Riley, Ashland, superintendent of the Great Lakes Indian Agency, reported to members of the tribe's Executive Committee last week. AVS to Receive $53,634 State Aid for 1961

New Law Raises Payments for Most Fox Cities Schools

Fox Cities vocational and adult schools will receive a large increase in state aid for 1961, as a result of new legislation which goes into effect this year.

Only seven schools in the state will receive higher state aid payments than the Appleton Vocational and Adult School. AVS aid will be $53,634, up from $40,464 in 1960.

State aid payments totaling $1,685,019.38 will be shared by Wisconsin's 62 schools of Vocational, Technical, and Adult Education, according to an announcement Wednesday by the State Board of Vocational and Adult Education which audits the schools' reports and apportions the state aid appropriation according to a formula set by state law.

Substantial Change

The current payments mark a substantial change from state aids of past years which totaled only $420,000 annually. The 1959 legislature raised the appropriation for vocational and adult schools, effective this year, to $1,785,000.

The new law not only increased the amount of aids the state pays, but also made a major change in the method of apportioning the funds. Under the new law, each school receives 15 cents per student per hour for courses with a vocational objective, and 30 cents per student per hour for terminal technical courses. No state aid is paid toward courses which are social or recreational in nature, or projects having only limited educational objectives.

State aid for other Fox Cities area vocational and adult schools will be $18,177 for Menasha, $16,378 for Neenah, and $38,409 for Oshkosh. All received $9,464 in 1960.

Kaukauna will receive $10,900, up from $8,667 in 1960. Kimberly, which received $1,618 in 1960, will receive $1,661.

Brillion will receive $376, down from $390 in 1960.

The large increase for the Appleton Vocational School is because AVS has more periods of student attendance in classes receiving aids than many of the other schools, said Director Carl Bertram.

Of the $1,785,000 appropriation, $315,000 is also allocated on the basis of 35 per cent of the local school's instructional costs, or 80 per cent of administrative, supervisory, and coordination costs, whichever is less.

Under the old law, aids were paid based on one-half of the instructional and administrative costs, without regard to student hours. They were limited to $30,000 annually for Milwaukee, and $15,000 for schools in smaller cities.

The board also approved bill lists totaling $36,338 from general funds, and three bill lists from building funds.

Bill lists approved from the building funds totaled $11,965 for Edison School, $18,305 for Foster School addition, and $984 for Huntley School.

Joe Martinson, Sturgeon Bay, is general chairman of the conference. Gilman Stordock, department commander, will be the principal speaker at the 1:45 p.m. meeting.

The conference will start with a meeting of the district committees at 9 a.m., followed by a school of commanders, adjutants, sergeants of arms and service officers at 10 a.m.

School Material Bid Accepted

Board Rejects Administration's Recommendation

The Appleton Board of Education Tuesday approved a low bid for chalk and tackboards that was $1,223 below the bid recommended by the school administration.

The board had requested samples from the two bidders, and approved a bid of $3,274 from Jim Michel for Gotham boards for the Foster School addition.

The administration recommended the bid of School Equipment Consultants of $4,497 for Brunswick boards. This was the second highest of four bids. After inspection of boards installed in other schools, said Director of Business Affairs William Knuth, they decided that the Brunswick boards were better constructed and more flexible.

Common

Knuth said that they had since learned that interchangeable parts were now available for the Gotham boards as well as for the Brunswick boards.

The board also approved a change order requested by Superintendent of Schools Royce E. Kurtz of $210 for the installation of additional aluminum stair railings at Edison School. Kurtz said, and there was concern that a small child might fall through under the top railing.

The board also approved bill lists totaling $36,338 from general funds, and three bill lists from building funds.

Bill lists approved from the building funds totaled $11,965 for Edison School, $18,305 for Foster School addition, and $984 for Huntley School.

Old Facilities Create Fire Hazard at King Home

Well-Trained Firemen hampered By Vintage Trucks, Equipment

KING — While the new Burns-Clemens Hall, a $1,500,000 domiciliary-infirmatary at the Grand Army Home, is a magnificent building in itself, it is only a half-step in the direction of providing needed facilities for the members.

To classify the majority of the buildings as "fire traps" would be an injustice, but the buildings, with only two exceptions, constitute one of this area's biggest fire hazards.

Adding to the eminent danger is the fact that the well-trained fire department is equipped with outmoded equipment of ancient vintage.

Something Should be Done

The 12-man fire department, minus two men activated with the 32nd Division, depends solely on speed. Firemen must put a fire out before it gets a good start.

While speculating on what type of a holocaust could erupt among the old frame buildings of the home is purely a matter for imagination, existing conditions indicate that something should be done and done soon.

A fire starts on a lower floor and the matron puts in the alarm. The firemen arrive with their 1934 F.W.D. and blows a hearing and the motor stops. The rest is a matter of imagination.

This may be dramatizing what could happen but it is hoped it never will happen. However, the conditions are ripe for such an incident.

A 1950 report by the Wisconsin State Planning board on the buildings stated:

"All are subject to great fire risk, although all have been well maintained and such difficulties as exist cannot be attributed to faults of omission or commission by the management."

Basically the problem is this. The buildings were built mostly in the era when frame construction was prevalent. They were deemed adequate at the time, but time continued to move while the buildings remained dormant.

No Disgrace

Out of the 109 buildings at the home, the new Burns-Clemens Hall and the hospital are the only two building of fireproof construction. Six buildings have masonry outside construction and

College Rock Disappears Once More

The Lawrence College rock is gone again.

The rock was returned Saturday after a five-month absence, to a prominent spot on College Avenue in front of Main Hall. The Post-Crescent had a story on its return Sunday, but by the time the paper was off the presses the rock again had been kidnapped.

Mrs. Ben Wagner, 534 N. Durkee St., told the Post-Crescent that the rock is being stored in a garage in Appleton. Although she did not borrow the huge rock herself, she said it was moved by wrecker at about 1 a.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Wagner added that she thinks the rock is being repaired, but is not sure.

sprays 100 feet of booster line and a top speed of 40 miles per hour.

A kerosene lantern hangs on the wall. The flashlight rests on the front seat of the truck and a small fire truck was turned down the street when a request for a new fire truck was turned down.

The department also has a 1950 ladder truck which is of the type used by power utility men to change street lights.

The ladder truck carries several air-packs and some other equipment. There is no foam or dry powder extinguishers.

Other equipment consists of a Conservation Department truck and trailer. The trailer has a 300-gallon tank and four hand packs for use at grass fires.

The second line truck is a 1921, magneto operated Seagrave that is stored in another section of the fire department building.

If major work must be done on the 1934 truck, the Seagrave is put into position as the number one truck. While this machine is better than nothing, its age also makes it questionable as to its reliability.

Water Plentiful

The Grand Army Home has had a fulltime fire department for 14 years, following a volunteer department. Four men are on duty at all times although the department is often called on for escort and other police duty.

Supplementing the department is a group of trained employees who in case of emergency, can do assist the fulltime firemen.

Water supply is no problem as the home is built on the shores of the Chain O Lakes. When the alarm sounds the utility department builds up a pressure of 90 pounds per square inch in the water hydrant system.

Evacuation practices are held monthly at the various halls. This however, does not include the hospital annex where 101 people reside, including 30 who are tray fed.

Most of the hospital annex residents will be moved into the new infirmary.

Pioneer State

While this has been a critical report on the buildings and facilities at the home speculation as to the needs are evident.

With all of the age and inadequate members at the home, the living quarters are a liveable type abode. They have needed privacy and comfort. Wisconsin has always been a pioneer state, setting patterns and followed in many other states.

A pattern of compromise is now needed. Members of the home of building that will offer these needs newer facilities, but not of the cell block type. Someone can and should look into the future to find the type own home.

Bones of Early Grignon Clan Members Buried

Winnipeg County homestead had been broken up into individual farms. It was his hope that the Grignon remains would be interred in a mausoleum on the county museum property.

Augustin Grignon who belonged to an illustrious early Wisconsin family was born in Green Bay in 1780. He was one of nine children of the well known Green Bay fur trader, Pierre Grignon, and a grandson of the illustrious Charles de Langlade. Both his Grignon and De Langlade forbears were prosperous Canadian fur traders who eventually settled in Green Bay, then known as La Baye.

His grandfather, Charles de Langlade was the famous fighting leader of the western Indians during the French and Indian wars. Historical records show that this son of an Ottawa princess and Canadian fur trader fought in 99 battles and he was one of the important figures in the last years of the French regime on this continent.

De Langlade's bravery and leadership won for him the Indian name of Akewaugetauso or "Fierce for the Land." He was the man who rallied the Indians in most of the battles of the French and Indian wars, holding control of the fur country for the French until one by one the French forts fell to the British.

De Langlade's daughter, Dominique, second wife of Pierre Grignon, was Augustin's mother.

Follows Family Tradition

Like his father Augustin became a fur trader. Before settling at Grand Kakalin (Kaukauna), he roamed the Indian lands in search of pelts and spent several winters in the Kaukauna area. It was while he was on one of his trading missions that he met Nancy McCrea daughter of a Scotch Canadian fur trader and a Menominee woman closely related to Chief Tomah. They were married in 1805.

A fur trading post already had been set up at the Kaukauna rapids by Dominique Ducharme on lands acquired by deed (for payment) of two barrels of rum from the Indians. It was part of this land and the original log cabin of Ducharme that Augustin bought in 1813.

It was here that Augustin carried on fur trading. He built a grist and saw mill on the river in 1816 the first to be run by water power in the area. He also worked up a profitable business in portaging goods around the rapids.

Retires to Butte des Morts

When he retired to his holdings near Butte des Morts, his sons, Charles and Alexander took over the business at Grand Kakalin. Augustin lived at his Butte des Morts trading post home until his death in 1869.

Charles Grignon, who later became Indian agent and an important man in county affairs, took over the business his father established when his brother moved on to Keshena.

It was Charles who built the 123-year-old Grignon home that's now a museum, known as the "mansion in the woods," the three-story home with its pillared porch stood for many years as a landmark in the wilderness along the Fox River. The house is one of the historical houses in the state since it is one of few homes left that date back as far as the third decade of the last century.

Lutheran High Homecoming This Weekend

Will Crown Queen Friday; Several New Features Added

Fox Valley Lutheran High School will hold its Homecoming this weekend, with several new features introduced.

The homecoming queen will be crowned at the homecoming at 7:30 p.m. Friday, rather than at the Saturday football game.

The identity of the queen will be announced Friday. She was elected by the student body from three candidates nominated by the senior class, Betsy Herrmann, Dawn Lueck and Barbara Weiling. The Queen's court will include junior representatives Margene Fuhrmann and Ellen Volkman, sophomore representative Jane Panko and freshman representative Jean Peterson.

Each class will build its own float, with prizes awarded by the Pep Club, a new feature in the annual parade. The parade will leave the school at 12:45 p.m. and go to the game.

The Foxes will play Lakeside Lutheran at Fort Atkinson at the game at Goodland Field Saturday. Kickoff time is 1:30 p.m.

Carrousel, the school newspaper, will publish a special Homecoming issue Saturday afternoon. It will include an account of the game played a few hours before.

The staff believes this is the first such edition published in the Fox Cities in recent years.

Skit Night, a program in which all the classes and several other groups perform, will be at 7 p.m. Saturday. There also will be a dinner Saturday for school alumni.

Ex-Menasha Man Appeals Jail Sentence

A former Menasha man was sentenced to six months in the Outagamie County jail Wednesday by Municipal Judge Gustave J. Keller. The man was found guilty of driving after his license was revoked.

Donald W. Johnson, 24, Crivitz, has appealed the decision to Circuit Court.

A mandatory jail sentence is imposed upon people found guilty of repeatedly driving after revocation, said Judge Keller.

Johnson was arrested Feb. 6, 1961, by Appleton police and charged for driving after his license was suspended and driving with an out of state license.

Johnson changed places with his wife after he was stopped, police said. The charge of operating with an out of state license was dismissed. Johnson pleaded innocent to both charges Feb. 9 in Municipal Court.

Johnson's record since 1959 includes three convictions for speeding, inattentive driving, driving in violation of a restricted license, a property damage and injury accident, two convictions for driving after revocation and one for driving after his license was suspended.

High Winds Bring Sun to Wisconsin

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

High winds, gusting up to 55 miles per hour, blew Wisconsin's cloud cover right out of the state Wednesday, leaving sunny and mild conditions today.

The highest winds were recorded at Green Bay. Milwaukee had gusts up to 44 m.p.h. and Oshkosh up to 42 m.p.h. The winds diminished rapidly as evening approached.

Some rain fell in the northwestern part of the state Wednesday with Superior reporting .14 of an inch, Park Falls .03 and Eau Claire .02.

Temperatures continued mild, reaching a peak of 76 at Racine. Park Falls was the coolest spot with 59.

Nighttime minimums ranged from 51 at Racine to 38 at Eau Claire. Those lows were 9 to 22 degrees cooler than the previous night. Lone Rock had 44, Superior 44, Wausau and Madison 45, Park Falls and La Crosse 46, Milwaukee 47, Beloit 48.

Presidio, Tex., hit the national high among the 48 contiguous states Wednesday, compared with the low of 23 early today at Bryce Canyon, Utah.

L. A. DePolis, 50, former vice president of Marketing of LeTourneau-Westinghouse, Peoria, Ill., was named president and director of FWD Corp., by the FWD Board of Directors. DePolis succeeds M. E. Ash, president of the corporation since 1958.

Michael Clifford, chaplain, and James Rueckl, treasurer. Population Grows, Shifts In Wisconsin

State Growth Up 15 Per Cent; Urban Areas Expand

MADISON (AP)—Wisconsin's population expanded by 15 per cent during the 1950-60 period and shifted as it grew, according to a University of Wisconsin study published Wednesday.

The Rural Sociology Department said in its findings. "In general, there appears to be an association between the presence of large cities and growth."

"While the state as a whole gained 15 per cent," the study said, "urban places, those of 2,500 or more, gained 2 per cent, villages of 1,000-2,500 gained eight per cent, and other rural areas declined three per cent."

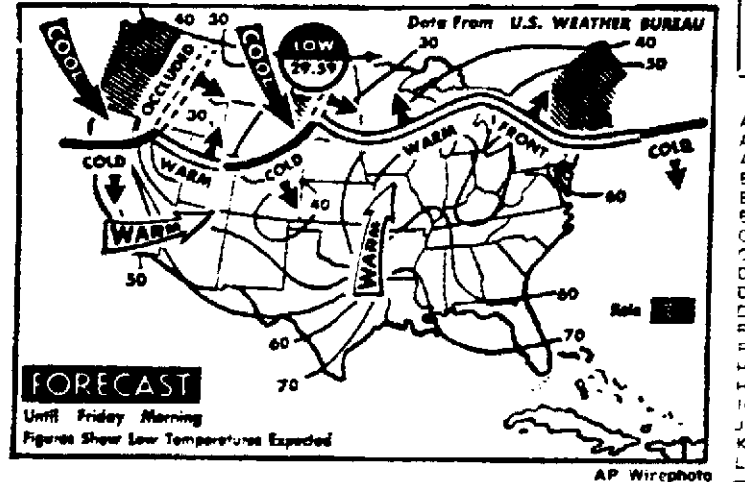

The Southeast counties and those in the Fox River Valley — Brown, Calumet, Outagamie and Winnebago — and Wood County in the north central part of the state all recorded above average population gains.

The study said the figures indicate that some county growth may be the reflection of urban growth.

As the state's population expanded from approximately 3.4 million, 37 counties gained population and 34 lost.

The gains and losses varied widely, with the largest gain 84 per cent in Waukesha County and the biggest loss 20 per cent in Forest County.

The heaviest losses were in the far north and west with Bayfield, Burnett, Forest, Iron, Price and Washburn counties all losing 10 per cent or more.

Ike Recalls Presidency On TV Report

BY TV SCOUT
6:30-7:30 (Channel 4-5) — Out-laws, adding new characters every week, introduces us tonight to Connie Masters, played by Loretta Young's daughter, Judy Lewis. Connie is a chin-upper from way back. We meet her working in the Wells Fargo office after her restaurant burns down. Into town rides her ex-husband, with news of her son and a scheme to rob the safe.

7:30-8:30 (Channel 4-5) — Leukemia is the disease of the week on Dr. Kildare with Suzanne Pleshette the victim. Her character is rather fuzzily drawn, but the actress makes her a touching figure. There is a fine scene between Miss Pleshette and John Fiedler as a young priest baffled by how to help the dying girl.

8:30 (Channel 11) — When young Mike (Tim Considine) brings home a girl friend on My Three Sons tonight, the girl (Jena Engstrom) has eyes only for Daddy (Fred MacMurray).

8:30-9 (Channel 11) — Premiering tonight is Margie, a family situation comedy set in the '20s. It's a well-made show, but it is hard to see what age group it appeals to. It's too unsophisticated for today's teen-agers, yet not quite nostalgic enough for the older folks. Cynthia Pepper, a genuine pitiful cutie-pie, stars as Margie. Dave Willock, a veteran actor whose face you'll recognize, has some of the best lines as Margie's father.

9-10 (Channel 2) — CBS Reports, Cronkite talking in Gettysburg.

Eric Salmon, Director and founder of Theatre Outlook, Liverpool, brings his troupe of English actors to Appleton this weekend under the auspices of Lawrence College Theatre. A different play will be presented each night, Sheridan's "School for Scandal," Friday, the first American performance of the contemporary prize play, "Four Men," Saturday, and Shakespeare's "Coriolanus," Sunday. The plays will begin at 8:15 p.m. on the Stansbury stage of the Music-Drama Center.

Pa The first 5,200-foot chapter, tonight, contains what producer Edward M. Jones told TV Scout is the 'best portrait of Eisenhower yet shown'.

9-10 (Channel 11) — The Untouchables are back, turning this week to the punchboard racket. Peter Falk, 1961's busiest villain, is the king of the punchboards and one of Elliot Ness' shrewdest foes. He tries to frame Ness out of the way and very nearly succeeds.

9-10 (Channel 4-5) — The usual assortment of songs and pretty pictures on Sing Along With Mitch tonight. Mitch Miller and his men lead the way through 24 songs.

Boys Get Missile Device
MARIANNA Fla. — (AP) — A think many sponsors will be in surplus missile tracking unit from Cape Canaveral will help inmates of the State Boys School learn music one to a sycophantic electronics Scottish Rite Masonic starlet. Sweetie if balcony were bodies of Miami bought the sur asphalt would be an eight lane plus missile tracking unit and highway gave it to the Boys School.

Jingo Aptly Calls This Reviews on English Troupe Strain-Name Dropping Full of Praise

Bon Mot, Bright Saying Used Widely To Keep Stars in Public Limelight

BY JINGO
Showbiz correspondents have a two-fold job it appears. To fill the need of fans straining for word of their idols and to keep the idols' names in print so the fans will continue to strain.

The latter job often causes some stretching as far as Jingo can figure out from doing some extra-curricular reading. Since some of the strained name dropping turns out somewhat funny, perhaps you would like to share some tid bits.

Donald O'Connor is reported as observing in the light of the influx of nude films "It goes to prove all the world is a stag." Apologies to the Bard, of course.

Janet Leigh and Tony Curtis are proud of their little Kelly Lee Curtis and are reported distributing this dialogue:

Kelly: Where does the sky begin, Mummy?
Janet: Go ask your daddy.

Tige Andrews' nephew (notice the stretch) is reported to have run into a Little League problem: the coach signalled him to stop at second and his mother screamed at him to head for third.

Some time the jolly is dropped anonymously for some reason.

One of the employees at a TV network asked for a raise. The boss turned him down with "Go on, until you told me I had no idea we were paying you so much."

With Finesse
The Year's Best Excuse "How can you expect me to remember your birthday, dear, when you never look any older?"

Most aren't anonymous, of course.

Harry Guardino discovered a Sunset Strip parking lot boy who's a real conscientious worker — because he does a bang-up job.

RCA-Victor signed a swing-in' teen-age wailer named Wanderlo. And changed his name, I'm happy to say, to Timothy Hay.

Rose Marie tells me she just adored that darling World Series television pilot film but doesn't think many sponsors will be interested in buying it.

Studio satrap (another anomaly of the State Boys School learn music one) to a sycophantic electronics Scottish Rite Masonic starlet. Sweetie if balcony were bodies of Miami bought the sur asphalt would be an eight lane plus missile tracking unit and highway gave it to the Boys School.

a poll taken said "No I can't say I'm happy working in movies. Let me put it another way — I wouldn't be happy of traveling the shows have been praised for their brilliant and elaborate costumes."

Six-year-old Arnella Flynn, daughter of the late Errol Flynn, lost her first tooth, scrubbed it, and gift-wrapped it for her mother, Patricia Wymore.

Some day when he can find an old joke book Jingo will try to put together a local name-dropper column. Perhaps you office in the Lawrence Music Drama Center from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 4 to 6 p.m.

Tickets for the plays are available weekdays at the theater box
